Postmaster-General Arrives to Speak

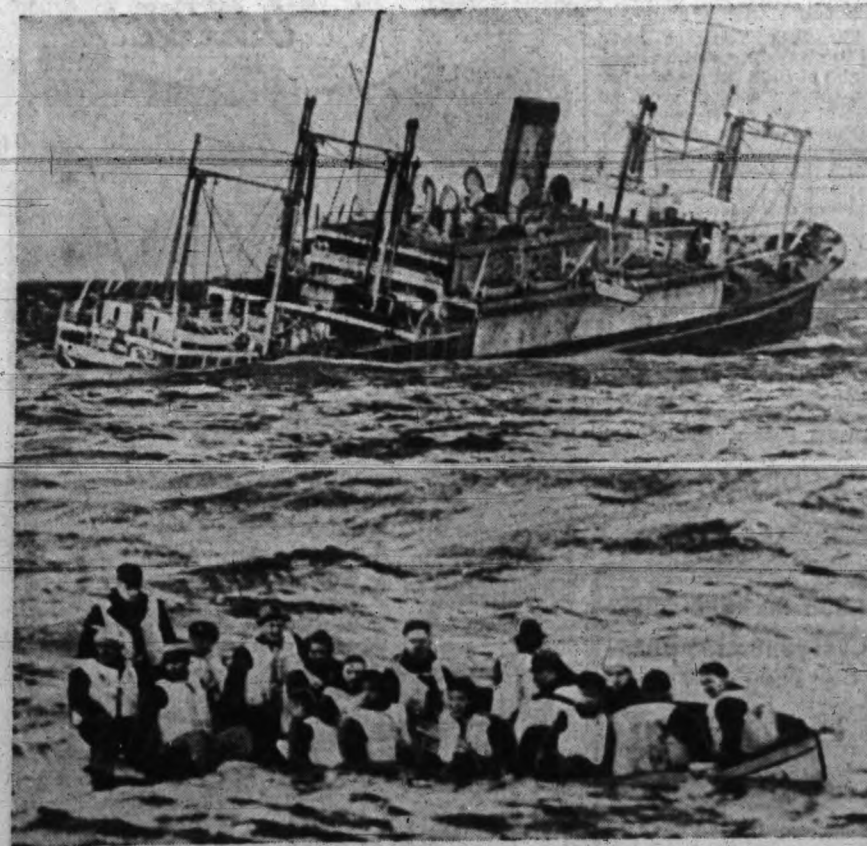

Victoria's bracing spring air brought smiles to the face of Hon. C. G. Power, K.C., Postmaster-General of Canada, as he stepped from the boat from Vancouver this morning. He is shown centre in the above picture between Carew Martin, left, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate for this city in the forthcoming federal election. Between Mr. Mayhew and Mr. Power are Fred McGregor, with hat, Mr. Mayhew's agent, and J. V. Johnson, one of Mr. Mayhew's campaign managers. Ed Whyte is at the left rear. Mr. Power delivered a stirring address at a Liberal rally at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

Gloucester for Canada?

LONDON (CP)—"A Londoner's Diary" in the Evening Standard today said that according to usually well-informed sources a movement is on foot to promote the appointment of Lord Chatfield, minister for co-ordination of defence in the war cabinet, as Canada's Governor-General.

"But only if Prime Minister Mackenzie King approves," the writer added, "will there be a vacant pew in the cabinet room at Downing Street. The Canadian people would prefer to have the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester installed at Ottawa."

Planes Shelled

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Netherlands anti-aircraft batteries fired repeatedly last night at unidentified foreign planes which flew along Holland's coast over Amsterdam and the province of Utrecht, the government announced in a communique today.

Final Bulletins

NO CANADIAN RECRUITING ABROAD

OTTAWA (CP)—No recruiting for the Canadian forces, air, land or naval, is being done outside Canada, it was learned at the National Defence Department this afternoon.

Canadian authorities are not aware of any other air force using Canada as a base for recruiting.

(A Los Angeles dispatch told of an investigation by G-men into reports foreign agents were recruiting young fliers for war service abroad. It mentioned a man in Paris and told of young men going to Canada on their way to meet his agents.)

Small Vote in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Precinct reports this afternoon indicated a light vote in Seattle's biennial municipal primary.

Mayor Arthur B. Langlie, seeking re-election, had four opponents for the nomination. Two candidates are being nominated. The general election will be held March 12.

Many Flee Floods

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Nearly 500 persons have been evacuated from their homes via boats in the Napa residential section by national guardsmen, deputy sheriffs and police. The raging Napa River this afternoon was threatening damage running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

INDICTED IN TOKYO

TOKYO (AP)—James R. Young of Springfield, Ill., correspondent here for International News Service, was formally indicted today on charges of spreading false rumors and was remanded in Tokyo district court for trial.

Pending trial, date of which was not set, Young will remain in detention. He has been in jail since his arrest January 21. He is charged under the army criminal code.

A Foreign Office spokesman said he was charged with sending, while on a visit to China, "extremely slanderous news reports regarding the Japanese forces" and with "spreading fabrications and rumors" among Japanese and foreigners in Tokyo after his return.

2 Die in Alberta Fire

CALGARY (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, pioneer residents of the district, were burned to death when fire destroyed a farm home near Chedderville, 40 miles northwest of Innisfail.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are investigating.

Air Mail Request

EDMONTON (CP)—An application for air mail service has been made to the Dominion government by the Atlin, B.C., Board of Trade. Bernard Phillips, an executive of Yukon Southern Air Transport, announced here today. The proposed service would be supplied by Yukon Southern.

French Destroyer Sinks Nazi Sub

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The 1,458-ton French destroyer Simoun destroyed a German submarine off Cape Finisterre, it was disclosed here tonight.

According to official estimates, the French had previously sunk at least 15 U-boats up to February 16. Ten of these were attacked last year and the remainder between mid-January and February 16. Within the past two weeks British naval and air forces were estimated to have accounted for seven more.

The Simoun is a 16-year-old vessel of a class of 12 destroyers designated by her name. A sister ship, the Siroco, already has been cited for three victories over enemy submarines.

The navy ministry's communique said: "French warships were patrolling somewhere off Cape Finisterre. Suddenly the lookout on the Simoun saw a periscope. There was instant reaction. The Simoun approached the enemy at full speed and attacked vigorously with grenades."

"She turned around and found herself again directly in front of the periscope which, doubtless hit, was rising from the depths where it had disappeared."

"The Simoun ran into the submarine. In the shock her outer

Conservatives Change Name; New Headquarters

By NORMAN MacLEOD
OTTAWA—What's in a name? In Toronto, where the headquarters of the Manion forces have been transferred, the time-honored and honorable title of "Conservative" has been dropped from the nomenclature of the grand old party. In its place, the campaign's stationery and literature simply bear the imprint, "National Government Headquarters."

The inference is that, in the judgment of the Manion board of strategy, there is nothing or little in one name, but untold magic in the other. Hence the relegation of the historic title and the substitution of the persuasive non-partisan label upon which the Manion leadership is gambling.

PSUEDONYM REACTIONS

On Parliament Hill there are distinctly two schools of thought on the change. On the one hand, the abandonment of any reference to the historic Conservative Party in Leader Manion's campaign is regarded by some as evidence of sincerity in his stand in favor of National Government, a consideration which justifies the change in party nomenclature for the purpose of gaining office.

An irate faction bitterly opposed to the sacrifice of the historic party name take the view that for Conservatism to mask under any other label than the one by which it is traditionally known, is acknowledgment of the inherent weakness of the Conservative position. These individuals take the view that if the grand old party cannot appeal to the electorate under its well-known name, then it is certainly not entitled to use a pseudonym to which its claim could be challenged with greater validity. For clear thinking Conservatives realize that true national government must mean the co-operation of the Liberal Party, which Dr. Manion cannot claim at present.

LESSON FROM QUEBEC

Another reason advanced against the policy of scrapping the party's name, derives from the fact that, once a party sacrifices its name, it cannot be assured it will be able to recover it when it wishes to reassume it. The lesson in this regard has been furnished by Quebec. There the French-Canadian wing of the party abandoned its name in order to submerge itself in the Union Nationale movement of Maurice Duplessis. Now that the Union Nationale movement is on the political junk heap in French-speaking Canada, there is no Conservative party left.

The Quebec situation is more difficult than any mere matter of a name. For only a few weeks ago French-speaking Conservatives, as supporters of the Union Nationale, were on Quebec platforms championing that movement and opposition to Canada's vigorous participation in the war. Now they are faced by the problem of how to climb on the Manion bandwagon and support the policy of vigorous war participation the Conservative chieftain is urging. The proposition frankly calls for ever greater skill at turning a sharp corner than the Tory politicians in Quebec possess—and they are blaming their plight altogether on the sacrifice of the party's name and identity a few years ago.

Conservatives anxious to see the party's historic name continued also point out that the party's name was specifically settled by a resolution of the Ottawa convention less than three years ago, when the title National Conservative Party of Canada was approved. For Leader Manion or any other high ranking Tories cavalierly to ignore this resolution is regarded in die-hard Tory circles here as autocratic and arrogant. Some Tories go so far as to say that it smacks of Hitlerism.

But those are the die-hards in the grand old party who want to keep it the party of Sir John A. Macdonald, of Borden, of Meighen, and of Bennett. However, the stationery and the literature used by the Manion headquarters in Toronto is mute proof that the Conservative Party of Macdonald, Borden, Meighen and Bennett exists no more—at any rate not in name.

OVER-RIDING CONVENTION

With the passage of summer the new building of U-boats will increasingly come into play and we expect to meet these with our very large new buildings of craft especially adapted to their destruction," Mr. Churchill said.

He told the House "We see our way to mastering" the magnetic mine, although mechanically it is very nicely made."

"To be modest," he said, "we do not feel at all outside in science by the Nazis. Although we must expect, perhaps in the immediate future, further and much heavier attacks by mines, we believe we shall find ourselves equipped to deal with them."

He said the engagement of thousands of volunteer minesweepers originally was for three months.

"But it is now clear that Mr. Churchill added. "The volunteers from the fishing fleets seem to have taken a liking to it. In many ports over 75 per cent of those who volunteered for three months now wish to continue for the duration."

Churchill Speaks

Britain Speeds 5 New Battleships Into Naval Line

LONDON (CP)—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the House of Commons in introducing the navy appropriation bill today that the five new 35,000-ton battleships of the King George V class would give Britain 16 battleships—the largest battle fleet in the world—in addition to three battlecruisers.

These ships "are capable of standing up to the air bombing and are far better adapted to underwater explosions than anything we have today," he said.

Mr. Churchill's announcement was the first official clue to the time these craft would be put in service. They all were launched last year as follows: King George V February 21, Princes of Wales May 3, Duke of York, September 16 and Jellison and Beatty November 11.

Each carries 10 14-inch guns and 16 guns of 5.25-inch calibre. They are designed to speed at above 30 knots and are especially armored against air attack. They carry no torpedo tubes.

NO NAZI SORTIE

"If we had not got at the present time unquestioned superiority in battleships," said Mr. Churchill, "the German heavy cruisers would come out into the Atlantic Ocean and, without fear of being brought to account, would be able to obstruct, if not arrest, the whole of the enormous trade without which we could not live."

"Happily we have far greater strength in capital ships than the enemy and if at any time they break out, as they may do, we always are ready to meet them with much larger forces and bring them to battle and destroy them."

The First Lord, introducing the bill for funds, asked the House for "a few men, some ships and a little money"—the Admiralty's appropriation is kept secret under wartime regulations. The House is being asked to pass a £100 ($445) token appropriation, and will not know until after the war just how much money it really represents.

Mr. Churchill said it was physically impossible to make exact estimates, and "there is no need to tell the enemy more than is good for him."

In the last two days, the First Lord told the House, probably three U-boats had been sunk.

"There was one certain and two almost certain," he explained.

Mr. Churchill placed the net loss of British merchant shipping at less than 200,000 tons out of a 21,000,000 total. He compared the figure with that of 450,000 tons lost in "single deadly month of April, 1917."

Each month had shown a steady improvement in shipping, he said, with the navy conveying into British harbors in January "in the teeth of U-boats, mines and winter gales and fogs"—considerably more than four-fifths the peace-time average of the three preceding years.

ENEMY'S LOSSES

By the end of 1939 the Germans had lost at least half their U-boats, namely 35, Mr. Churchill said, and he doubted whether even 10 fresh U-boats went into action during the first four months of the war.

"With the passage of summer the new building of U-boats will increasingly come into play and we expect to meet these with our very large new buildings of craft especially adapted to their destruction," Mr. Churchill said.

He told the House "We see our way to mastering" the magnetic mine, although mechanically it is very nicely made."

"To be modest," he said, "we do not feel at all outside in science by the Nazis. Although we must expect, perhaps in the immediate future, further and much heavier attacks by mines, we believe we shall find ourselves equipped to deal with them."

He said the engagement of thousands of volunteer minesweepers originally was for three months.

"But it is now clear that Mr. Churchill added. "The volunteers from the fishing fleets seem to have taken a liking to it. In many ports over 75 per cent of those who volunteered for three months now wish to continue for the duration."

Nelson, Barham, Damaged, Rejoin Grand Fleet Soon

LONDON (CP)—Two of Britain's biggest battleships, the 31,100-ton Barham and the flagship Nelson, 33,950 tons, are under repair at naval yards after being damaged by enemy action. Winston Churchill disclosed in the House of Commons today.

Without disclosing where, the First Lord of the Admiralty said the Barham, which was completed in 1915, had been hit by a torpedo some time ago and that the 15-year-old Nelson struck a magnetic mine at an undisclosed date.

Both ships were able to proceed to port under their own steam and soon will be commissioned again. He made no mention of casualties.

The Nelson carries nine 16-inch guns and the Barham eight 15-inch guns.

In connection with the Barham, it was recalled that on December 29 it was disclosed that a battleship of the Queen Elizabeth class had been damaged by a torpedo and that three men had been killed. The Barham is of the Queen Elizabeth class.

After saying the Nelson was able to make her own way to port, Mr. Churchill said:

"This secret, of which many thousands of people were necessarily aware, was very well kept, and has only just leaked out into Germany after it has ceased to have any importance."

Mr. Churchill added that apart from the battleship Royal Oak and the aircraft carrier Courageous, which were lost early in the war, and the Nelson and Barham, "no other large ships have been damaged or sunk since the outbreak of war or during these very difficult winter months."

Mr. Churchill disclosed the navy had not used Scapa Flow, the great North Sea naval base, since the battleship Royal Oak was sunk there by a German submarine last October 13, with a loss of 810 lives.

NO QUICK BAIL FOR ANTI-WAR TRIO

OTTAWA (CP)—Harry Binder, Arthur Roy Saunders and Louis Binder, charged under the Defence of Canada regulations with printing and circulating pamphlets allegedly of a seditious nature, were remanded till March 6 in magistrate's court today and bail for each of the accused was set at $3,000, after the crown had asked that it be set at $5,000. The bail was not forthcoming immediately.

Walter Martin of the Ontario Attorney-General's department, conducting the prosecution jointly with Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier, withdrew the charges on which the three men were held and three new charges were laid.

Substance of the three new charges is that they "did print, make, publish, circulate, etc., pamphlets containing material intended or likely to:

1. "Prejudice the recruiting of any of His Majesty's forces."
2. "Be prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of the present war."
3. "Cause disaffection to His Majesty."

The charges were similar to those first laid.

ping, the Germans have broken every rule hitherto accepted by the world for regulating mining warfare.

"One of the most extraordinary things I have ever known in my experience is the way in which the German illegalities, atrocities and brutalities are coming to be accepted as if they were part of the ordinary day-to-day conditions of war."

The opposition was quick to praise the administration of the Admiralty. A. V. Alexander, Labor, former Admiralty head, said "the spirit of our people is behind the Royal Navy."

Widespread Raids Extend European Air Operations

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced today two raiding German planes had been shot down off Britain's coast as the German air force apparently resumed its widespread coastal raiding.

One of the raiders, a Heinkel bomber, was downed by a patrol of the Royal Air Force fighter command off the mouth of the Firth of Forth shortly before 1 p.m. (4 a.m. P.S.T.).

A second communique said: "Early this afternoon a fighter aircraft of the Royal Air Force shot down a second Heinkel off the coast of Northumberland. Three members of the crew of the enemy aircraft were seen to take to a rubber boat."

The number of German raiders shot down off the coast of Britain since the war began is now 43. Nine others are believed to have failed to reach home.

SIX WOUNDED IN PARIS

PARIS (AP)—Six Parisians were wounded by an anti-aircraft shell fired last night at German planes scouting the environs of Paris for massed squadrons that flew over the capital area early today.

The air raid incident, most serious of its kind since three persons were wounded here November 13, sent one of the victims, 39-year-old Leon Manach, to a hospital for amputation of his right leg.

The exploding shell, digging a hole two feet deep in the street, pelted surrounding buildings with fragments. It fell near Censier-Daubenton subway station. The persons wounded were in the Rue Mirbel, a Latin quarter thoroughfare.

All were taken to hospitals, but only Manach remained.

When the massed German planes followed the scouts later today it prompted the first air raid alarm of the year. The sirens sounded at 4.31 a.m., and the all-clear signal was given at 5.28 a.m.

OVER HELIGOLAND

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight one plane failed to return after "a successful reconnaissance over Heligoland Bight" by a Royal Air Force squadron.

The Air Ministry in an earlier communique told how the Royal Air Force had made the longest reconnaissance flights of the war over Germany.

In announcing the fourth R.A.F. flight over Germany within a week, the communique, issued this morning, said "Our aircraft reconnoitred important seaports in northern Germany and the Baltic."

British planes "operating over central Germany penetrated as far as Berlin," the communique declared. Flights also were reported over western Germany and Heligoland.

One of the R.A.F. planes landed before dawn this morning in a field near Grimsby, on the east coast of England. Five men were aboard, all unhurt. The plane was reported to have run out of fuel on its way back to its base.

Last week, the Air Ministry announced leaflet dropping flights over Austria and Bohemia and reconnaissance trips over Heligoland Bight and northwest Germany.

The Air Ministry said last Thursday it "was not generally known," but British planes had flown over Berlin "more than once" since the start of the war.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—The German news agency claimed tonight a British reconnaissance plane of the Bristol-Blenheim type had been shot down this afternoon in Heligoland Bight by German pursuit planes.

NAZIS ON MOVE

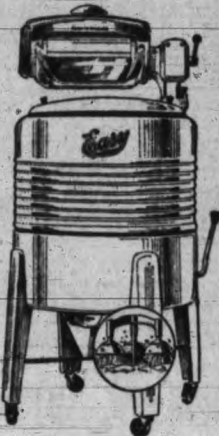

BRUSSELS (AP)—Artillery fire of increased intensity today shook houses of Luxembourg frontier villages, while unusually heavy troop, road and rail movement was visible across the Moselle River. A steady stream of cavalry, cyclists, infantry, ammunition and food columns have been noticeable since Saturday.

The Obermosel Zeitung said barracks had sprung up overnight between Nennig and Besch in the Rhineland.

Eyewitnesses saw an officer they believed to be Field-Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering among a group of German officials standing on a bridge near Echternach over the Sauer River Saturday.

5th Brigade Has Memorial Service

A memorial service was held by the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade under Lieutenant-Colonel V. C. McKenna, M.C., today at the Armories on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the surrender of General Pietrus Cronje to the Royal Canadian Regiment at Paardeberg, South Africa.

In this engagement in Lord Roberts' clean-up march on Pretoria, "A" Company, the British Columbia unit of the Royal Canadian Regiment, included several Victorians. A roll of honor of those who died in the action served as the scene of the memorial service at the Armories.

The brigade was called to attention and Major T. A. H. Taylor, O.B.E., recruiting officer for Military District No. 11, on behalf of the D.O.C., placed a wreath on the tablet.

Rev. Alan Gardiner called for two minutes' silence after which he explained the ceremony which was in memory of the men who died for God, King and country near Paardeberg in 1900. Members of the Fifth Brigade from which volunteers went to "A" Company of the Royal Canadians made practices of draping the plaque in former years.

Captain Gardiner gave a prayer, the Last Post was sounded and the National Anthem sung.

Officers present were Major C. G. Aitken, M.C. and bar; Captain A. S. Page, district depot; Captain G. E. Harrison, district depot; Lieutenant E. B. Corby, district depot; Captain M. Caverhill and Captain R. Scott-Moncrieff.

Veterans of the victory still living in Victoria include: C. M. Roberts, H. Smethurst, A. Carter, G. F. Holyoake and R. Wylie. Other members of the Royal Canadian Regiment still here include W. C. Warren of "C" Company and J. C. McDonald of "F" Company.

There are 24 vacancies for pairs and motor mechanics, in machinists, fitters, instrument repairers in the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade.

Shrinkage can be kept at a minimum if the executor and trustee is efficient, capable and economical. For example, this Company recently submitted to the owner of a $75,000 estate a plan that reduced possible shrinkage by more than $4,000.

A confidential talk with one of our officers may prevent unnecessary shrinkage in the value of your estate.

Not Repeating Mistakes of 1914, Power Declares

Hon. Charles G. "Chubby" Power, ex-soldier, veteran of Quebec politics for 23 years, now Postmaster-General of Canada, arrived in Victoria today to make a campaign speech for R. W. Mayhew, Victoria Liberal candidate, with a reasoned argument in favor of careful and deliberate organization of Canada's war effort.

"To say we have not made any mistakes is absurd," he declared, "but we have endeavored to profit by the lessons of the last war."

Quoting incidents from the official history of the Great War, Mr. Power added:

"We have heard much from those who remember the glamour, the exuberance and the enthusiasm which accompanied the raising of the First Canadian Contingent in 1914, but very little has been said of the steps taken in 1939 to avoid the hardships and the embarrassments caused last time by, let us say, a sudden decision five days before embarkation to place 30,000 men aboard ships prepared to take 20,000 men overseas."

Mr. Power cited cases of men 79 and 80 years old who were enlisted in the last war and got as far as England. The medical history tells of 10%, 15% and 20% of units being medically unfit when they reached the Old Country. Boots were useless after 12 parades. Men suffered untold hardships through lack of proper quarters.

WELL CARED FOR

"We are not blaming those responsible at that time," he said. "Everyone recalls the excitement and the rush. But we do think we should profit by those mistakes. And today our organization is as well advanced as it was in a similar period last time and the men are not suffering the hardships. They are well fed, well cared for and have proper quarters."

Mr. Power arrived here from Vancouver on the morning boat in course of a tour of western Canada. He had breakfast on the boat with members of the government and local Liberal leaders. They included Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines; Mr. Mayhew, Carew Martin, president of Victoria Liberal Association, and John V. Johnson, campaign manager for Mr. Mayhew; F. M. McGregor, Mr. Mayhew's agent, and E. M. Whyte.

The Postmaster-General was taken on a tour of the city this morning by Mr. Mayhew. He visited the post office and viewed the site of the projected new federal building here, which has been deferred until the end of the war. He had lunch with several prominent Liberals before addressing a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon. He left on the afternoon plane for the mainland to address a meeting tonight.

Mr. Power is one of the colorful figures of Canadian politics. With Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Public Works, he played a significant part in the Federal Liberal Party's sweeping victory in Quebec province against the Duplessis Union Nationale Party, regarded as the major step in achieving the unity of Canada.

He is steeped in the political traditions of French Canada. His family has represented Quebec South riding since 1900, with the exception of three years. Before him his father, William Power, held the seat from 1900 to 1917, except from 1908 to 1911. Coming back from overseas Mr. Power stepped in and has represented the constituency ever since. A brother represented the riding in the Quebec Legislature and another brother sits for the same district on the Legislative Council, which corresponds to the Senate in Quebec.

"We do things in threes," he commented with a grin. "There were three of us playing hockey in our younger days, three of us overseas and then three of us in politics."

Qualities of Leader

Power Sees Laurier Vision in Canada

The ideals of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe for Canadian unity are founded on the belief of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the two great races which compose Canada can and shall live in harmony. Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General, said in addressing a rally at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon in support of R. W. Mayhew, the Liberal candidate for Victoria, and Alan Chambers, candidate in Nanaimo.

"During all the days of anxiety and uncertainty and fear, the government, while keeping in close touch and active co-operation, never ceased its efforts to maintain a united front at home," Mr. Power said.

"The task was one requiring the finest qualities of statesmanship. There was needed firmness, and above all, moderation. Moderation of thought, of speech and of action."

"A single jarring note, an indiscreet speech, an ill-considered action might have precipitated an internal crisis which would necessarily have had a devastating effect on our war action and on the destiny of our own country."

GREAT LEADER

Mr. Power said it was due to the fact Mackenzie King possessed the necessary qualities of a great leader that no incident occurred.

"He was determined from the outset that no action of a decisive nature or irrevocable character should be taken without the consent of Parliament. Parliament did assent and that with a minimum of opposition."

"The slogan, the rallying cry which carried with it all the just elements of the population—the ultra-loyal, the man on the street, the nationalist—was keep Canada united. Nobly did all classes and sections of Canada respond."

"It is still the slogan. It is ours. I believe it is yours, no matter to which party you have hitherto given allegiance."

Mr. Power recalled he was himself one of the fast-dwindling number who sat in the Commons with Laurier. He knew him best when he was no longer the ruler and idol of the country, when many had abandoned him in defeat.

VISION OF CANADA

"But he left the influence of his personality and of his thoughts on us," he continued. "He had from the inception of his career seen the vision of one great Canadian nation on the North American continent, and to that concept he was ever faithful, ever true."

This belief, he said, had profoundly influenced the two men who today held the foremost places in Canadian public life, Mr. King and Mr. Lapointe.

"He, above all, would have wished for such a combination in a crisis such as this, a combination which by its prestige, its influence, its example, will keep this country on a level keel."

ALL BUT VICTORIA GET AIR SCHOOLS

OTTAWA (CP) — A school under the British Commonwealth Air Training plan will be established in Vancouver, Hon. Norman Rogers, defence minister, announced today. Schools also will be set up at Edmonton, Ottawa, Calgary, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Regina, but Victoria, B.C., is not on the list.

The department said that "by July, it will be possible to announce the inauguration of No. 2 air observers' school at Edmonton, while No. 1 service flying training school, now at Camp Borden, will function as such during the same month."

No. 2 service flying training school will be established at Uplands, near Ottawa, to be opened in August, together with No. 3 elementary flying training school at London, Ont., and No. 4 elementary flying training school at Fort William, Ont.

Neill Sets Record For Shortest Speech

GREAT CENTRAL LAKE (CP) — One campaign speech by A. W. Neill, independent member of Parliament for Comox-Alberni for 20 years and a candidate for re-election, was over in less than a minute.

"I will support the government that devotes itself to prosecuting the war honestly and with maximum energy, and one that will see to peace for all time," Mr. Neill told a meeting of 150 persons in this Vancouver Island logging centre. And that was all.

The chairman of the meeting said Mr. Neill's record made it unnecessary for him to deliver a long address.

The meeting was called without Mr. Neill's knowledge as a "surprise party" for him.

free from strife, free from dissension, free from turmoil.

"With these two men acting together as they do in the closest co-operation we need have no fear of civil commotion, no fear of hatred in one section and distrust in another. We are assured of a united Canada. We are secure in a free Canada. We are on the high road to victory, a country unafraid, a nation unconquerable."

HUGE WAR ORGANIZATION

The federal minister gave an interesting account of the immense amount of organization at Ottawa that was set up to deal with the war effort.

On August 30 last year, before war actually broke out, an emergency council was set up, he said, and its duties are now handled by a war committee of the cabinet, which consists of the Prime Minister as chairman, the Minister of Justice, the government leader in the Senate, the Minister of War and the Minister of Finance.

Various sub-committees submit their reports to this central group. The Minister of Finance heads a committee on war finance and supply, which deals with finance, credits, loans, foreign exchange, matters relating to production and distribution of war supplies other than fuel and food, mobilizing of industry and providing munitions and equipment. Under this committee the War Supply Board and Foreign Exchange Control Board, two of the most important bodies organizing the effort within Canada, are operated.

Then under the Minister of Agriculture is the committee on food production and marketing designed to direct agricultural production into the channels where it will do the most good. The Bacon Board comes under this committee.

Various other cabinet committees and sub-committees deal with wheat, fuel and power, shipping and transportation, internal security in regard to enemy aliens and property, on legislation, public information, price control and labor.

PLANNED IN ADVANCE

"All these boards were not evolved out of thin air nor were they mere paper creations," Mr. Power declared.

"In every instance there are men and women doing their job of work, quietly, without ostentation and without publicity."

"In most cases their constitution was elaborated on the experience obtained during 1914-1918, and that experience has been extremely valuable in that it led us to set up in advance an organization which the necessities of time made imperative in the last war, but which unfortunately sometimes came too late."

Mr. Power said a war book with explicit instructions for every branch of the government was prepared. This illustrated the vast amount of preparation that had been made.

Pincers Move By Red Troops

HELSINKI (AP) — The Finnish high command today announced Russian attacks from the Arctic to the Gulf of Finland and acknowledged that Finnish forces had withdrawn to new defensive positions after an all-day Russian assault in the Arctic region of Petsamo.

In the north the Finns said they had fallen back to new positions at Nautsi, on the Norwegian border 65 miles south of Petsamo.

In the south, the daily army communique reported, the Russians were driving across the Bay of Viipuri, attacking islands in the southwestern part of the bay, naval key to Viipuri, after having occupied the strategic fortifications on the islands of Kolivisto.

The communique indicated the Russians were aiming at some sort of encirclement of Viipuri—the immediate goal of the great Russian "February offensive" on the Karelian Isthmus.

It was assumed that the Russians no longer are blocked by Kolivisto's heavy guns, which anchored the western end of the Mannerheim Line, and that they are preparing to swing wide to the west, perhaps attempting to cross the ice on the bay of Viipuri in order to effect a pincer move against Viipuri itself.

The communique indicated also the Finnish air force now is in a position to conduct long-range bombing flights as well as to engage in defensive activity. It was stated an enemy air base "far behind the enemy lines" was among the objectives bombed.

Reich Control In Europe Hitler Terms for Welles

ROME (AP) — Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's special envoy on a mission of inquiry in Europe, today began a series of talks with ambassadors of belligerent powers by conferring for half an hour at the United States embassy with Sir Percy Loraine, British envoy to Italy.

The talk preceded a luncheon at which Welles met both Sir Percy and Andre Francois-Poncet, French ambassador, at the residence of William Phillips, United States ambassador.

Later in the afternoon he met at tea with Hans Georg Viktor von Mackensen, German ambassador.

From these talks, he was expected further to round out information on what is going on in Europe before boarding a train for Berlin shortly after midnight. There he is expected to be received by Adolf Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

His itinerary after leaving Rome has been fixed as Berlin, Paris, London and then home by way of Rome. Welles said he would break the Rome-Berlin trip for a night's rest in Bern, Switzerland, and partly to talk with the American minister there.

He told reporters Mussolini "was good enough to invite me to call on him on my return to Rome. I hope to be able to accept that opportunity."

HITLER'S PLANS

BERLIN (AP) — Informed German circles expressed belief today Adolf Hitler would tell Sumner Welles in no uncertain terms the Reich demands hegemony on the European continent and return of colonies lost in the last war.

Hitler, it was generally believed, would propose no peace plan to President Roosevelt's envoy.

From the insistence of recently inspired press articles that non-belligerents maintain complete neutrality rather than mere official neutrality, the opinion was advanced that Hitler and the American undersecretary of state would discuss the preservation of "more complete neutrality" by the United States.

The view was expressed in informed quarters that Germany would insist on such "more complete neutrality" before there could be any improvement in relations between the Reich and United States.

BRITISH OPINION

Commenting on the European "voyage of exploration" by Sumner Welles, the London Daily Mirror said today:

"What we expect of America is not that she should come in, but that she should not make things more difficult by impeding our blockade, and that she should not come in by diplomatic interferences or half come in and half stay out."

The Daily Telegraph said: "There is evidence that the higher circles of Hitlerism are now halting between opinions about Mr. Welles' visit, as on many other subjects. Anxiety not to offend the United States struggles with alarm that the visit must injure Germany, show her in the wrong."

and marshal American and world opinion against her."

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Myron Taylor, special envoy from President Roosevelt, today handed Pope Pius a letter expressing the President's hope for "re-establishment of a more permanent peace on the foundations of freedom and assurance of the life and integrity of all nations under God."

The letter presented Mr. Taylor to the American President's "old and good friend," who as Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli visited him in the United States in 1936.

The President told the Pope he was sending Mr. Taylor "in order that our parallel endeavors for peace and the alleviation of suffering might be assisted."

British Warship Foils Scuttlers; Seizes Nazi Ship

LONDON (CP) — The German freighter Wahehe, 4,707 tons, which attempted to run the British blockade from Vigo, Spain, to her home port, today was brought to a British port by a warship which foiled a scuttling attempt.

The Wahehe was listed officially as the 25th German vessel captured during the war and increased the total captured tonnage to 98,290. In addition, 28 German ships totaling 152,891 tons are listed as destroyed by scuttling or other causes.

Six German ships were reported February 13 to have left Spain in attempts to run the blockade to Germany. Two have been captured, and another, the 4,354-ton Orizaba, was reported last night to have sunk after striking a shoal near Hammerfest, Norway.

The British steamship Clan Morrison, 5,936 tons, out of Glasgow, hit a mine and went down in the North Sea, it was announced today. Survivors of the vessel were landed at an east coast port on Sunday. One Lascar seaman was lost and 15 others were injured.

OFFICER HURT

One officer was buried beneath the debris caused by the explosion and members of the crew worked for half an hour to extricate him. He was injured seriously. The survivors took to three lifeboats and were later picked up by rescue vessels.

The Clan Morrison, owned by the Clan Line Steamers Ltd., carried 15 officers and a Lascar crew.

British and neutral shipping losses for the week ended Sunday night were reported as the lowest of any week in the war.

Allies Supply Warplanes, Guns To Rumania

BUCHAREST (AP) — Three agreements whereby France would supply Rumania with large quantities of warplanes, machine guns and other armaments were reported today.

Signing of the contracts was reported unofficially as a Rumanian finance commission returned from Paris.

Great Britain, it also was reported, already had flown 60 Spitfire pursuit ships and Bristol Blenheim bombers to this country.

The French and British action was described as following on receipt of assurances from Rumania that Germany would not be favored in exports of Rumanian oil.

This produced some uneasiness here as to Germany's future action toward Rumania, particularly in view of the expected arrival of a German economist this week to seek more oil.

Meanwhile, Italian negotiators began conferences which observers believed might develop into a Balkan economic contest with Germany.

Launching of discussions with the Italian trade mission here caused widespread speculation in foreign diplomatic quarters as to Italy's motives in seeking an increased share of Rumanian exports — at the moment when either Germany or the Allies have contracted for nearly everything.

Most informed circles held the belief that Italy was seeking to nudge out Germany and resell Rumanian goods in world markets for gold.

Four British ships of 17,778 tons and three neutrals of 8,850 tons were reported sunk.

The report was in contrast with the previous week, in which losses of five British and 15 neutral ships, with total tonnage of 86,077, were the war's highest for one week.

Submarines were blamed for only one sinking last week, compared with 74,524 tons of the previous week's losses.

In addition to the Clan Morrison, the week's British losses were given as the British Endeavour, Royal Archer and Loch Maddy; and neutrals as the Tara and Petten of the Netherlands, and the Santos of Sweden.

Three ships sunk the previous week also were named: The Steindstad of Norway, Denhaag of the Netherlands, and Aase of Denmark.

No Nation-wide Call for Blood

The Victoria Branch of the Red Cross Society learned today that there will be no nation-wide call for blood donations to be shipped overseas for work on the battlefields, because of the lack of facilities needed for the preparation of the blood for preservation.

The Toronto Red Cross branch called for volunteer blood donors a month ago whose donations will be used overseas.

A letter from Dr. F. W. Routley, M.D., national commissioner of the Red Cross Society, received at local headquarters this morning, points out that the National Research Council of Canada has established through Dr. Best at the Toronto Military Hospital, a laboratory in which distilling the blood received through the Red Cross appeal and the making of a serum which will last indefinitely is carried out.

The serum's value is for two purposes; first and primarily for treatment of shock cases, and secondly for blood transfusions where fresh blood is not available.

"There is no other laboratory in Canada which is doing this work, therefore there is no other place where volunteer donations can be made," the letter read. Similar practices is being followed in England but on a much larger scale.

Dr. Routley appreciated "the generosity of a great many donors throughout Canada and the United States who think that the Red Cross is equipped to take blood donations at all points in the Dominion."

SWUNG SUPPORT FOR ALLIES—When representatives from Victoria College reached the Pacific Northwest Conference of International Relations in Eugene, Ore., last Friday they found other clubs strongly in favor of the isolationist policy of the United States. The Victorians presented their arguments and succeeded in building up sentiment for active, armed assistance for the allies and a stiffening of the moral backing now being given Britain and France. Those in the above picture who made the trip to Eugene are: Front row, left to right, Don Fields, Larry Wyatt, who was elected vice-president of the association which will meet next year at the University of Idaho, and Gerry Cross; back row, John Swainson and Larry Prowd.

TO SEND CITIZENS ARENA PROSPECTUS

Final revision of the arena prospectus was completed last night, following the semi-monthly business meeting of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and announcement was made by Ernest H. Harris, arena executive chairman, that it would go to the printers today and be issued to the general public early in March.

Giving full information on every phase of the project, the prospectus will be sent to 16,000 homes in Victoria and district, appealing for their support in the coming public subscription drive. In addition, the pamphlet bearing the prospectus will contain a picture of the proposed arena, tell how citizens may subscribe to the fund, give the names of officials connected with the undertaking and other data.

Mr. Harris reported preliminary preparations for the drive were progressing very satisfactorily and that the campaign personnel was nearly completed. The money drive, he said, would definitely start March 12, continuing through to March 19. The meeting, presided over by Thomas Sturgess, president, decided to strike a special commit-

Final Tribute To Late Judge

The Bench and Bar of British Columbia, the B.C. Police, the army and a wide representation of civilian life yesterday afternoon paid final homage to Judge John Charles McIntosh, a member of the Victoria County Court Bench since 1921, who died suddenly Friday night in Port Alberni.

Impressive tribute to Judge McIntosh, not only as a member of the Bench but as a man and a student of public affairs, was paid by Rev. Thomas Menzies, who assisted in the service conducted by Rev. H. A. McLeod.

"A great man has been taken from us. His place will be hard to fill," was Mr. Menzies' closing tribute after he had briefly summarized the eventful and distinguished career of the late judge. He referred to his scholastic background in Ontario, his army experience with the 48th Highlanders and the Queen's Own Rifles, his subsequent practice as a lawyer after coming to western Canada, then his elevation to the judgeship as a fitting climax to a fine career.

The genial personality of the judge and his keen interest in community and civic affairs were praised in the eulogy. Mr. Menzies' describing him as a "true Canadian and one who always sought the welfare of the land of his birth."

Among those attending the service were Col. Eric Pepler, representing the Attorney-General; Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, representing the government; Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald of the Court of Appeal; Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and Inspector R. Owens of the B.C. Police, and Lieut. Col. Vincent McKenna and other officers of the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Honorary pallbearers were: Judge A. M. Harper, Judge H. H. Shandley, J. Maitland-Douglass, R. W. Gibson, R. H. Pooley, K.C.; M. B. Jackson, K.C.; Dr. E. C. Hart and E. S. Mitchell, S. M. Manuel and J. T. Eastick, officers of No. 24, United Services Masonic Lodge, Esquimalt, of which Judge McIntosh was formerly treasurer.

The active pallbearers were Dr. C. Denton Holmes, A. H. Wylie, G. Tisdall, H. A. Bourne (representing the Vancouver Bar), L. A. Hanna (representing the Port Alberni Bar) and E. V. Finland, M.P.P.

Interment took place in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Ganges Land Sale

GANGES—Thomas Angus of Vancouver has purchased from D. S. Harris of Ganges a five-acre plot of land on Churchill Road overlooking Ganges Harbor. It is Mr. Angus' intention to build a home there.

Under the auspices of the Salt Spring Island board of school trustees talking pictures were shown at the Mahon Hall this week by courtesy of the British America Paint Company of Victoria. The proceeds will go to the building fund of the new consolidated school at Ganges.

The junior pupils of Mrs. D. K. Crofton gave an interesting performance at her home on Ganges Hill Saturday afternoon. Prizes were awarded to the following for music reading and style: Lillian Henn, Dorothy Rush, Tommy Reid and John Price.

Says Some Men Have No Uniforms

F. S. Cunliffe, Conservative candidate in Nanaimo riding, declared at a meeting in Colwood Hall last night that some of the men in Duncan who had enlisted in the early days of the war were still without uniforms.

Charging inefficiency in the organization of the war needs, he criticized various contracts let by the government in recent years. Contracts were let, he said, for planes that would be obsolete before they left the factories.

The candidate said Prime Minister King's idea of unity concerned only the support of a Parliament dominated by the Liberal machine. His view was that it must be made up of men pledged to a nonpartisan administration of affairs. He attacked the Prime Minister for failing to call Dr. Manion into conference at the outbreak of war.

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, party candidate in Victoria, declared the naval and militia services had much to do yet. The Dominion should be prepared to build up a reserve of six divisions, he said.

GYROS FEATURE SPORTS NIGHT

Members of the Gyro Club met in Spencer's dining-room last night for the regular monthly supper meeting of the organization.

A program of music and sport events was presented with some of Victoria's best athletes taking part in the entertainment.

Alan Tapley and Colin Corbett gave bo-fo exhibitions which proved popular. Gyros enjoyed the smart way in which the two youngsters handled the bouncing balls. Several Gyros tried to emulate the feats of the boys but wound up in a tangle.

A strong man act was presented by Rocky Brooks, former Victoria wrestler, when he blew up with his mouth the inner tube of a car until it burst.

Vic Tulley, Ab Renfrew, Bill Cotton and Wilmet Browne-Cave, under the supervision of Laurie Greenwood, gave an exhibition of table tennis. All four players are experts at the game, Renfrew being present holder of the city championship.

An augmented orchestra under the direction of Charlie Hunt provided the music for the gathering. Ernie Broom was in the chair. Alderman Archie Wills thanked the performers.

Canada's Effort Suits Chamberlain

Quoting the recent praise given by Prime Minister Chamberlain to the efficiency of Canada's war organization, Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo riding, last night said this was sufficient answer to Conservative allegations of an ineffectual effort.

"It may not be all right with Dr. Manion, but it's all right with Chamberlain. It's all right with me," declared Mr. Chambers, speaking at the Women's Institute Hall, Brentwood.

Besides the effort abroad, the government, he said, had paid careful attention to the home front. The Wartime Prices Board, set up immediately on the outbreak of war, had served as a remarkable check on inflation of prices and profiteering.

Mr. Chambers categorically denied charges of political patronage in military appointments. He cited a list of prominent Conservatives named to important posts, finishing with the recent choice of Capt. R. B. Longbridge, president of Nanaimo federal Conservative Association, and campaign manager for Conservative candidate, as commander of auxiliary services in the province. Selection, he said, was on the basis of the best men for the jobs. Hon. Norman Whittaker, K.C., Speaker of the Legislature, supported Mr. Chambers, dealing particularly with the issue of unity.

Present unity between the English and French-speaking races of Canada was no accident, he pointed out, but a result of the confidence built up among both groups in the present parliamentary leaders. Dr. Manion's attacks in Parliament would have endangered that unity if the session had been allowed to continue, he said.

Eric Wilkinson, campaign organizer for Mr. Chambers, spoke briefly. Lorne Thomson was chairman.

All Is Working Well

MR. ALAN CHAMBERS, GOVERNMENT candidate for the Nanaimo riding, used simple language at Brentwood last night to contrast the British view of Canada's war effort with that of the Dominion's opposition leader and his partisan armchair strategists. Here is the candidate's forceful comment:

"It may not be all right with Dr. Manion; but if it's all right with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, it's all right with me."

Mr. Chamberlain and his ministerial colleagues are finding it difficult to measure in words their appreciation of what Canada has done, is doing, and will be doing for, as long as the emergency shall exist. Nor is it difficult to understand why this should be so—or why Mr. Chambers found it simple to sum it up in the few words we have quoted from his speech. For, as we have said on many occasions in these columns since the outbreak of war, one of the most encouraging factors as far as Canada's participation is concerned is the harmonious co-operation between the government at Ottawa and the British government; an effective working arrangement which has enabled—and is enabling—this senior overseas Dominion to supply the Allies with the most important commodities for the successful prosecution of the conflict.

Within an hour or so of that memorable announcement from Prime Minister Chamberlain last September 3, Mr. Mackenzie King, with preparations for any eventuality undertaken months previously, asked the ministry in Downing Street to say in definite terms the nature of the assistance it would like from Canada. The reply Ottawa received—but which opposition forces have persistently ignored because the facts of the case do not suit their political book—indicated as plainly as could be stated that Britain would welcome more than anything else in the world a continuous supply of necessary raw materials, various minerals, foodstuffs of all kinds, products of the factory and the forest without which her war industries and her armed forces would be severely handicapped, and, of course, as many airmen and complementary auxiliaries as could be trained here.

The assistance least required, however, was, and apparently still is, infantry battalions. Yet the First Division already is in Great Britain; the Second Division will be dispatched when the British government feels it has use for it; and during the past week the First Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force disembarked at a British port and, as its commanding officer modestly said to welcoming dignitaries, "what is expected of us we know we can do."

So, when all is said and done, about the only people who are critical or dissatisfied with Canada's war effort on her own behalf, not to mention what she has accomplished under the precise and expert plans Prime Minister Mackenzie King obtained from the Allied governments, are Dr. Manion and his partisan supporters.

That Little "If"

IT IS NOW DISCLOSED THAT GENERAL Pershing sent a document to the Allied Supreme War Council on October 30, 1918, explaining his reasons why he believed an armistice was then ill-advised. He favored a dictated rather than a negotiated peace, because he considered that only by adopting that formula would there be any chance to secure world order on a permanent basis.

General Pershing was by no means alone in his contention. Many British and French statesmen were in favor of dictating the peace in Berlin—of giving the Germans a taste of what they gave the French in Paris in 1917. But all the Allied countries had suffered terribly in human and material losses; it was the prospect of still further bloodshed which helped to halt hostilities as soon as the enemy showed unmistakable signs that he had had enough. But with such a complete victory within his grasp, with the whole of the German army demoralized and on the run, the decision to agree to the armistice must have been a bitter pill for Marshal Foch to swallow as he saw within his grasp the glorious opportunity of balancing the record—of erasing the memory of Gravelotte, of Metz, of Sedan, of a heavy bill paid.

What really and finally decided the armistice has been the subject of much debate. There is nothing to do about it now. What Pershing suggested will have to be added to the collection of "ifs" that have no influence whatsoever on what is happening in Europe today. In the Treaty of Versailles, however, will perhaps be found something to guide the statesmen of the world when they gather to decide what sort of a peace the next will be.

War and Our Trade

VARIOUS FORECASTS BY GOVERNMENTAL agencies indicate that exports from Canada to Great Britain during the first full year, ending August 31, 1940, will amount to about $550,000,000. This will compare with total exports of $341,000,000 during the year ended August 31, 1939, and with $370,000,000 during the year ended August 31, 1938. It is expected that during the current 12-month period Britain will take from us $350,000,000 of foodstuffs, $110,000,000 of base metals, including nickel and aluminum, $110,000,000 of airplanes and accessories, $45,000,000 of munitions, and $20,000,000 of lumber and miscellaneous commodities.

Great Britain is already importing considerable quantities of wheat. It is expected that exports of wheat and flour from Canada to the United Kingdom will amount to more than $175,000,000. As a result of the recent agreement made between Ottawa and London, the British government is taking 5,600,000 pounds of bacon each week. The price has been fixed at $20.18 per 112 pounds. Britain will therefore probably take $52,500,000 of Canadian pork products per year.

With regard to the exportation of aircraft and accessories, large orders have already been placed, and it is expected that, as the Canadian aviation industry increases its output, more and more airplanes and accessories will be shipped to Britain. The estimated amount of ammunition, if anything, must be considered as a minimum, while lumber, as is well understood here, will move in volume as railway cars and ships are available. Under the recent arrangement completed between British importers, Canadian interests, and the two transportation companies, approximately 10,000,000 feet will go to the Atlantic seaboard from this province each month. This will help to keep a constant supply available for the shorter sea haul—and when ships can be provided. As the average lumber cargo is about 4,000,000 feet per ship, these partial overland shipments will substantially relieve the situation all round.

Although exports from Canada to Great Britain will increase materially as the result of the war, the effects on Canada, naturally, will not be uniform. Some branches of the national economy, such as agriculture, are bound to profit. On the other hand, in view of the rigid restrictions imposed in Great Britain on the importation of a large number of nonessential commodities, it is obvious that the exportation of certain commodities will decrease materially. At the same time, imports into Canada from the United States may expand—despite the exchange premium which the American dollar enjoys on this side. On the whole, however, it is expected that Canada's foreign trade during the war will show a substantial surplus of exports over imports, which ought to enable the Dominion to reduce a considerable portion of her securities held abroad, particularly in Great Britain.

Chambers and Cunliffe

AT COLWOOD COMMUNITY HALL LAST night, Mr. Frank S. Cunliffe, Conservative candidate for the Nanaimo riding, is quoted by the Colonist as saying:

"It is apparent that Prime Minister King is endeavoring to threaten the people of Canada that the only way to get national unity is by electing supporters of the Liberal Party, and yet the only unity he wants is one that can be dominated and controlled by his party machine."

In another part of the same issue of our contemporary appears the report of a meeting at Brentwood addressed by Mr. Alan Chambers, Mr. Cunliffe's opponent, and this is what it contains:

"Mr. Chambers gave a categorical denial to charges of political patronage in military appointments, citing a long list of important commands given to prominent Conservatives, including the recent appointment, as officer commanding auxiliary services in British Columbia, of Captain R. B. Longridge, president of the Nanaimo Federal Conservative Association, and campaign organizer for the speaker's opponent in the present election."

And Captain Longridge's appointment is an excellent one. He is one of the "remnants" of that fair-sized band of former soldiers who quietly slipped away from Kamloops soon after war broke out in 1914. "Bob" Longridge hurried to his native land to rejoin his old regiment, the 16th Lancers, and he served with distinction. He will take to his new job a wealth of experience and an intimate knowledge of the men who have worn the uniform of His Majesty.

German publishers are assured of a bright future if they can depend on a new edition of "Mein Kampf" every time the Fuehrer changes his mind about whom he hates.

40 Years Ago

From Vancouver News Herald
On Saturday night the South African campaigners sat down to "skoff" together to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Battle of Paardeberg and the Relief of Ladysmith.

If any of the recruits of the present Expeditionary Force had been present they could hardly have failed to have been surprised at the vigor and the vitality of these hardy veterans.

Speaker after speaker during the evening voiced the disappointment which at times grew to indignation at the attitude of the authorities in not accepting their proffered services for participation in the present struggle.

Maybe the champagne air of the victor and the very hardships of the South African campaign are responsible for the fine physique which these men who rallied to the Empire's aid in 1899 and 1900 now enjoy.

Yet it was not the health and strength of these men that was the dominant feature of the gathering. It was rather their inflexible courage and determination, that buoyancy of spirit based on faith that the cause for which they fought was just, just as they are confident that the cause for which the Empire has again taken up arms is worthy of their continued support, to the utmost limit of their powers, and indeed, it may be sadly admitted, even beyond them.

"Old soldiers never die."

Loose Ends

GROWTH AND DECAY

THEY TELL ME that the voters' list in Victoria has grown remarkably since the last election, and while a voter nowadays is not generally regarded as a human being, but rather as an entry in a ledger or a problem in economics, still it is evident that the human population of this place is growing. I view that with alarm.

We have been brought up in North America with the fixed notion that the highest objective of a statecraft and the natural desire of the human race is to increase the population. We have assumed that we are successful only as we pile more people into our country, our province, our city, our street. We have built all our economic arrangements on the assumption that our population would continue to increase forever. All our railways, ports and cities are based on that assumption, and all our debts contracted accordingly, with interesting results.

The assumption is false on two counts. In the first place we will not get the population. In the second, we don't want it. Or at least I don't.

To me it is cause for wild alarm that Victoria is growing. The virtue and the value of Victoria has always been its relatively small size. It has had all the advantages of civilization with none of the vices. A man could live here instead of merely going through the motions as they do, say, in Vancouver. There was elbow room and plenty of space between the houses, and green grass everywhere. Indeed, I have always looked forward wistfully to the day, prophesied by a great Canadian railway magnate, when grass would grow on Government Street, but I have never dared to voice that hope before the local captains of industry. They are unanimously opposed to grass, and they have the backing of the populace.

ATHENS

NO USE TELLING the public that Athens was smaller than Victoria and yet produced the highest civilization yet known. I wonder whether, after Victoria has quadrupled its population, it will produce statues acclaimed by the world 2,000 years hence, writings that will be read then and buildings that will still be the wonder of the world? Well, I suppose you may reply that the light house on Pandora Avenue will still be the wonder of the world then, if the peoples of that time still have a sense of humor and an appreciation of the insane.

There were plenty of other cities in those days but only one Athens. There are plenty of other cities in America, hundreds of them, all the same, all with a main street and Neon signs and stop lights and movie palaces and soda fountains in imitation of Broadway at 47th Street; hundreds of cities all alike, but only one Victoria.

Must we be reduced to the common level? Must we be overwhelmed with population? Must we be sodden with growth and prosperity? Well, perhaps, but do not make any mistake about this—the total population of America is going to decline. Many of the big cities are going to be abandoned and uninhabited because we are a declining race. It is my fear, however, that the decline will not start soon enough to save us in Victoria. It is probable that we are going to grow, and instead of grass on Government Street we shall have Government Street stretching for miles into Saanich.

GOVERNMENT BRAND

IF YOU WANT TO SEE what kind of a world we are growing into go down to the headquarters of the Provincial Police and get yourself a motor license. The Provincial Police, I dare say, are the best force in America. The system they have installed to give you a motor license is a marvel of efficiency. But the point is that it is a system. You have to stand up to a counter and sign your name and hand over your money like a robot. No time to stand and chat about the weather, as in the good old days of the country store and the barroom. No human touch. Just a lot of poor driven sheep entering a pen and being branded and dipped.

And if you are a school teacher, and thus naturally distrusted as an enemy of the state, you even have to swear allegiance to Canada before you can get the government's brand put on you. Within a few years I have no doubt that you will have to parade in a line to the Provincial Police headquarters and sign your name and take the oath of allegiance and leave your fingerprints and get the brand put on you before you can buy a pound of tea; and you will have to swear your allegiance not only to the national government, but to the provincial government, the City Council, the Saanich School Board, the Greater Victoria Beaches and Parks Committee and the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants.

We are going to develop such an army of clerks, bookkeepers, supervisors, inspectors, testers, fingerprint experts and swearers-in that I can see the day rapidly approaching when nobody will be producing anything. There will be left only two or three fellows like me who grow anything to eat, and we shall be like the Roman Empire before the fall, when everybody was going to the circus to watch the lions eating the Christians and there wasn't enough food growing to keep the human population eating at all. So Rome went back to the lions. When I finally cease to be a producer most likely the whole country will starve.

I tell you, the demands of modern life, between motor licenses and income tax forms and listening to speeches on the end of the world, are getting so strenuous that we producers are just about ready to quit. I would have sown a row of potatoes the other morn-

"Marusia"

Florence Randal Livesay, the Canadian writer who years ago introduced something of the spirit of the Ukrainian people to an English-reading public in her translations "Songs of Ukraine," has gone further in setting down in English "Marusia," the best-known novel of Hrihory Kvitka.

Kvitka was the first Ukrainian writing in prose to use his native language in a serious way. This was more than 100 years ago. The translation has just been published with a foreword by the late Lord Tweedsmuir, one of the last things the noted author wrote.

The New York Times refers to the work—published by Dutton—as, "A sort of ballad in prose, primitive in theme and romantic in mood, very much in the Ukrainian tradition in spirit and style. There is something almost medieval in the love story of Marusia and Vasyli; it is one of the endless variations of love unto death."

The Herald-Tribune sees it as: "Another primitive version of the old legend of Death and the Maiden. As retold here in translation it has the brilliance and sadness of a fine and simple song."

The Sun says: "As a genre picture it will be enjoyed by the type of reader who enjoys learning of provincial life and ceremonies. The translation is smooth and bright."

A COURT FIXED THE PRICE

From Toronto Star

Dr. Manion has at last come forward with a definite charge against the King administration. He says that the government has purchased a Vancouver residence for an officers' mess at $94,446, whereas it was assessed for only $49,150, and two prominent Vancouver real estate men valued it at $94,000. The fact is that the price was set by a court. The Winnipeg Free Press says:

"The amount paid for this residence was not fixed by the Dominion government, but was determined by the Exchequer Court of Canada in a judgment rendered August 21, 1939 (Canadian Law Reports, Part VI, 1939, p. 340). The judgment recounts that the Dominion government offered the owner, Isabel Gertrude Spencer (Mrs. Victor Spencer), $49,150 (the municipal assessment) which she declined to accept, asking instead $145,750. The expert evidence given both for and against the Dominion offer is summarized: Mr. Justice Angers holds that 'municipal assessments are usually lower than the real value' and 'that the market price is not necessarily a conclusive test of real values; and gives an award of $94,446.'"

This is the second real estate transaction of the government to come under attack. The previous one was the purchase of the Eglington Hunt Club property, Toronto, for air-training purposes. In that case it was shown that the price paid by the government was only sufficient to give the owners a few cents on the dollar, and that a private party had offered in court to pay more for the property than the government paid.

In the Vancouver case, the price was fixed by a court. In the Toronto case it was the result of a valuation made by a prominent Conservative real estate man who is one of the government's non-partisan appointees in connection with war purchases.

DOGS

From Toronto Star

A central point in "Outward Bound," one of the better modern plays, is the saving from asphyxiation of the hero and heroine by their dog. And now a cocker spaniel is credited with saving four people from a similar fate in Etobicoke. Dogs are often devoted and valiant in fiction and in fact.

ECHO SOUNDERS FOR CENSOR'S OFFICE

From Ottawa Citizen

The War Supply Board announced last Thursday that among the contracts awarded in Ottawa, Hughes-Owens had received an order for "echo sounders $10,000." Perhaps they are an electrical device to allow the censor's office to hear the echo when "intelligence" is sounding beneath a cocked hat somewhere in Ottawa within hailing distance of the Rideau Canal.

WE WASTE A LOT

From Chatham Daily News

The British Ministry of Supply has ordered that British broom handles hereafter will be square instead of round. Tent poles also will be square and food supplies will be carried in crates instead of boxes. It is estimated that these three innovations will save $8,000,000 a year in Britain's timber supply.

We do not realize how much we waste in a year until a war comes along.

Ing if I hadn't been compelled to get a motor license, and today I am filling out an income tax form instead of getting the ground dug for the peas. The government is getting its brand on all of us.

"CONFUCIUS SAY"

Well, never mind what he says! Everybody is quoting and misquoting the old man of China today, but we've contented to have the people of Victoria quote us on just one subject—the one with which we are really conversant. When the subject is Fuel, just ask, "What Does"

KIRK SAY"?

WHY PICK ON TEACHERS?

To the Editor:—The government feels it cannot trust the loyalty of B.C. teachers without an oath. What about clergy, radio speakers, journalists, authors? Is it safe to let presidents of Rotary or Women's Missionary Societies declaim from platforms?

In time of war there is always this talk of "loyalty." What actually happens is that some of our elders and betters do not have to make the sacrifice demanded from the young and the poor; they may even find their sphere of activity and influence enlarged. So they have to make a parade of this thing they call loyalty, and, of course, the easiest way to show they possess it is to prove that someone else doesn't. Real loyalty, like honor, is not meant to be talked about; if you try it vanishes. We all know what we mean by loyalty to family, to friends, to the community. Loyalty to country must be loyalty to community at large; it must mean putting the good of the whole social body before personal interest.

Now we know quite well that our teachers show as much idealism and as little self-interest as any other body of workers. It is just not possible to work successfully with children if you think first of your salary or personal advancement. But what we seem to be forgetting is that our teachers, like other professional bodies, are in touch with progressive methods and ways of thought; in fact they have been trained to believe that education means getting the child to think, to use critical judgment, to make up his own mind rather than giving him a set of ready-made opinions. This kind of education is the foundation of democracy, and I am sure Dr. Weir believes in it as strongly as I do.

We are told we are "fighting Hitlerism." Is not Hitlerism just this desire to regiment thought and its expression—to prevent a man from making up his own mind and speaking it? We must fight Hitlerism on the home front. This is not the first time our government has gone down to defeat.

To a Canadian loyalty means first trusting every other Canadian to care as much for Canada as he does himself.

TOO MUCH PETITNESS

From Brockville Recorder-Times

In contrast with Mr. King's statesmanlike utterances, we have for the most part small, petty arguments by small, petty people, criticism that is often destructive instead of constructive, a performance which must be disappointing to many of those who are normal followers of opposition leaders but who, in this election, are putting their politics to one side in order that a government which has already demonstrated its capacity for war service in such striking degree shall be given a clear mandate to continue the work so well begun.

IN D FLAT

From Ottawa Citizen

Unless audiences display a little more enthusiasm, Dr. Manion's election campaign meetings, such as the one in Brockville, will be far from lively. There was a discouraging lack of spirit. Dr. Manion was given little or no encouragement in the form of applause or cheering. The meeting opened on a silent note.

TOXOID DOES IT

From Woodstock Sentinel-Review

That is a fine record referred to by Dr. Putnam in his annual report to the board of health—no diphtheria cases in Woodstock since 1930. The use of toxoid commenced in 1928, when two to 10 cases annually was the usual thing.

Council Approves Burnside Auditorium

Burnside School will get its $4,500 auditorium.

Counter-attacking a finance committee campaign to shelve the issue for later consideration, Alderman Ed. Williams, rebel member of the committee, led forces supporting the expenditure through a ballot division to unanimous approval of the school board-endorsed project at the City Council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The action came after the committee had won its point on a $700 vote to level and grade South Park playground on the premise it would be reconsidered in estimates.

Finance committee chairman Alderman W. L. Morgan explained the position to the aldermen, stating Thursday was the deadline for disapproval of the extraordinary school estimates. He suggested first that the council disapprove the South Park School playground item.

"We feel the public works department can level and grade the ground at less expense than the school board," he explained.

"Is that a guarantee that the work will be done?" asked Alderman Archie Wills.

"As far as I am concerned it is," Alderman Morgan replied.

Alderman Wills suggested that assurance be placed in the motion.

F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, explained disapproval of the project did not mean it was finally killed, but could be reconsidered in ordinary estimates.

"The city set aside special property for a school playground, but it is of no value unless it is developed," Alderman R. A. C. Dewar remarked.

On the assumption the work would be done by the public works department, the school board vote was disapproved.

LESS DEFINITE
Alderman Morgan was less definite in guarantee of work on the Burnside auditorium. The city, he said, did not know just where it was financially. He believed the item should be disallowed and reconsidered in general estimates committee.

Alderman Williams objected. He favored the project, suggesting the school estimates might be pared in other departments to secure funds for the work. It was the only school in Victoria without an auditorium and needed one, he said.

"If this is approved, that is the end of it. You cannot reconsider it," Mr. Shaw stated.

Alderman John A. Worthington urged the city to wait until estimates to see if there were funds available.

"If we haven't the money, we can't build it," Alderman Morgan interjected.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden linked the issue up with the war. "We are going through one of the most terrible struggles the British Empire has ever faced and we should confine our lives to necessities," he declared in opposition to the expenditure.

"It is a necessity," remarked Alderman Dewar.

"They have got along without it," Alderman Gadsden countered.

"Yes, and we could get along without a lot of these wars, too," Alderman Dewar replied.

"It is a necessity," declared Alderman Davies. "We may have to use it to train the children for the war," he added, suggesting a lengthy conflict in which the physical training of today's youngsters would be required for later service.

Alderman Wills thought the building should be constructed, as it was in a workingman's district and these children should not be penalized when all other schools had auditoriums, which were needed for the present curriculum. Its price was much less, he noted, than the $10,000 another auditorium had cost.

"If this is a move to sidetrack the issue, I would oppose the recommendation to disallow it," Alderman S. H. Okell said.

Alderman Morgan promised to refer it to the estimates committee.

The vote to disapprove the expenditure was put and lost, the mayor voting with Alderman Gadsden, Worthington, Morgan and Okell in support of the committee recommendation and Alderman T. W. Hawkins, D. B. McTavish, Davies, Dewar, Wills and Williams in the negative.

Alderman Williams immediately moved approval of the vote and it carried unanimously, with Alderman Worthington voicing strenuous objection to the manner in which Alderman Williams had moved on the issue. The mayor halted an altercation between the two, calling them to order.

With the main item out of the way the council approved school board estimates of $200 for repairs to the Pemberton gymnasium and $800 for improvements in the Bank Street School

Crack Down On Pin-ball Games

Pinball and marble games operating illegally, as well as slot machines being used contrary to the law, are being closed up whenever they are discovered, Mayor Andrew McGavin declared in City Council yesterday when use of those devices came up for discussion.

The question arose when Alderman B. J. Gadsden cited licensing terms of the city by-law covering vending and amusement machines, noting a fee of $30 every six months was required for the operation of those which were legal. He asked how that compared with the Criminal Code.

F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, quoted the code to the effect that machines, other than those for vending or amusement purposes, constituted gaming devices. The by-law, he said, did not contravene the Criminal Code.

"We are only licensing machines for vending or amusement purposes," the solicitor said.

Alderman Gadsden, in explanation, said he had brought the mayor's attention to the operation of an illegal machine. But it was not the part of an alderman to check on them, he said. The responsibility was that of the police and police commission.

Alderman S. H. Okell reminded the council he had voted alone against the 'censuring of such machines on the grounds they were gaming devices. He thought they should be kept out of town.

In reply to Alderman Archie Wills, Mayor McGavin stated the machines which were throwing coins or slugs were closed up by the police. At one time, he said, all machines were stopped. When the amusement and vending types were legalized, some of the others crept back in. When their operation was discovered by the police, action was taken, he added.

Alderman Gadsden referred to the improper influence the machines had on young people. Further, he added, they were rigged so that the player did not have a fair chance.

"Of course," the mayor remarked, "a person who gambles never gets an even break, no matter what game he plays."

The chief of police had the matter under advisement and was taking action against illegal machines, he added.

KING RECEIVES FILM OF VISIT
The appreciation of King George for the color film of his reception by the city last year was conveyed to the City Council yesterday in a letter from A. F. Lascelles to the mayor.

The film, taken at the request of Alderman T. W. Hawkins and forwarded to His Majesty on the same alderman's recommendation, arrived safely and has been laid before the King, the letter stated.

"I am to ask you to express to the members of your council His Majesty's sincere thanks for your kind thought in sending him this film, which he is glad to have as a memento of his happy visit to Victoria last summer," it added.

Identification of Skeleton Sought
B.C. Police today sought identification of the human skeleton found last Friday on Mountain Point, near York Island, in the Gulf of Georgia off the east coast of Vancouver Island.

Constable Halsey-Brandt, from Alert Bay, reported to divisional headquarters here today the only trace of clothing which might help identify the remains were a pair of blue denim overalls with zipper side pockets and a leather belt with two sailboats engraved on the buckle. The skull of the skeleton was missing.

PASADENA (AP)—George M. Reynolds, 75, retired Chicago banker, died last night at the home of his son, Earle Reynolds.

Reynolds, former chairman of the executive committee of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, was offered and declined the appointment as secretary of the treasury in 1909. He was president of the American Bankers' Association in 1908.

The ordinary school estimates were referred to the estimates committee, along with a letter from city comptroller D. A. MacDonald and city solicitor Shaw drawing the council's attention to a $2,000 vote for improvements to lighting.

Parking Action Here By March 15

A hoist until March 15 was given Police Chief J. A. McLellan's parking proposals by the City Council yesterday in response to requests from the Real Estate Board of Victoria.

Alderman Archie Wills, suggesting the delay on the parking issue might tie up the police estimates, presented a motion which would have referred the chief's report back to the commission with the statement the council did not approve of half-hour restrictions in the business area. The motion failed to secure support.

The mayor felt action should be taken without delay, that the council should thrust out all issues at a special meeting.

He was supported by Alderman S. H. Okell, who called for a general free-for-all discussion on time limits, parallel parking and extension of one-hour zones. He thought action could be taken by March 15.

A motion to that effect was carried.

In reply to questions, the police chief stated he had noted reduction recently in the number of all-day parkers in certain locations.

Arena Lease By-law Asked

A 20-year lease of the proposed Victoria arena-auditorium, when and if the building is erected, was sought by the Junior Chamber of Commerce special committee and board of trustees in a letter presented to the City Council yesterday.

The communication suggested management of the forum be conveyed to the special board as outlined in the arena prospectus and that a by-law covering the lease be submitted to the electors when "sufficient proof has been given that the building will be erected and completed."

The rough draft of the by-law was outlined by the special committee as follows:

"That in consideration of the said Junior Chamber of Commerce arena auditorium committee and board of trustees desiring over the arena and the property on which it is built, when built, to the City of Victoria, that the city lease the arena and property for a period of 20 years at the nominal rental of $1 a year to the nominal commission; said commission to be set up as outlined in the prospectus, and under whose management the arena will be and which commission will be responsible for its operation and all expenses incurred."

The letter was referred to the finance committee, as was one from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association suggesting the proposed Pandora Avenue site be abandoned in favor of one on Douglas Street to avoid depreciation of Pandora property values and to eliminate possibility of undue noise in the church district. The ratepayers also urged that control and management of the undertaking be retained by the city.

"Some of those points are well taken," remarked Alderman John A. Worthington.

"Who is this Victoria Ratepayers' Association?" queried the mayor.

Catholic Children At Inspiring Rally
Children of the Roman Catholic diocese of Victoria gathered in large numbers at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday afternoon for the first Holy Childhood Rally.

The occasion also marked the third anniversary of the consecration to the See of Victoria of Bishop John C. Cody.

Rev. Father Roland Roberts gave an inspiring sermon to the children, urging them to renew their love and zeal to the missions. Under the guidance of Pope Pius XI, every available force was organized to forward the work of the missions and to make God known to people in distant lands, Father Roberts said. Children, he said, could forward the cause of the missions by the power of their prayers and sacrifices. More than 800,000 children were baptized each year.

Bishop Cody gave pontifical benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, assisted by Msgr. A. G. Byker and Rev. Father Lauzon. The bishop thanked the children for their attendance, and announced that, owing to Father Buckley's health, Rev. Father Alexander Macdonald of Nanaimo, had been appointed diocesan director of the Holy Childhood Association.

In the post-rally contest in connection with the rally, grade 8 of St. Ann's Academy, Nanaimo, was the winner.

City Council Briefs

MORE PROPERTY IS SOLD; BOND WANTED

The lands committee received approval for the sale of lots on May Street for $50, on Michigan for $50, on Avebury for $50, for part of a lot on Hillside and Blackwood for $150, for two lots on Bay Street to the V.M.D. for $1,800, for one on Michigan for $1,000, and for one on Basil Avenue for $250. A five-year lease extension with the option of renewal for another five years was granted the Manning Lumber Company for city property it is using. The council also undertook to assist the company in securing foreshore rights at that location. Approval was given the lease of a part of the Duck Block to the Salvation Army for a dry canteen. Terms call for $25 a month rental after a six months rent-free period. The old market commissioner's office was also made available to the Salvation Army for the month of March to aid it in its campaign to raise funds for the canteen.

Posting of a $2,500 bond will be requested from the C.P.S. Lumber Company by the City Council to ensure action by the company in cleaning up the site on which it formerly conducted mill operations. Decision to seek that security was taken on the recommendation of the city lands commissioner, who reported the company had not met its 1939 taxes and, under terms of the agreement whereby it repossessed the site, was required to leave the location free of debris that might cause accidents.

Over the protests of Alderman W. L. Morgan and J. A. Worthington, the city lights committee received approval of a special $400 labor vote to continue pole-line renewals throughout the city. The work was urgently needed in view of the fact some poles constituted a menace to safety, Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman, explained. Alderman Worthington and Morgan thought the vote should have been referred to estimates committee.

Arrangements for the regular relief gardeners' contests, for which the city gives prizes, were authorized and the council approved a move by the parks committee to ask the B.C. Agricultural Association to hold special contests for relief gardeners at the 1940 Fall Fair.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Victoria Horticultural Society for its co-operation in securing publicity for this city in the Toronto Star through air mailing of spring flowers to that newspaper.

George Rice and Albert Wm. Yule were appointed to the fire department as third-class firemen on probation on the recommendation of the fire wardens. The wardens also submitted their estimates, stating $225 had been cut from the original total.

The city has no power to license cats and would have difficulty in enforcing a licensing by-law if it had one, Alderman S. H. Okell told the City Council yesterday. But the pound committee, he said, is interested in cats and plans to bring in a motion shortly to reduce the costs of their destruction when the animals are no longer wanted.

Police estimates, approved by the police commission, were referred to the estimates committee.

The council accepted an invitation from the Family Welfare Association to that body's annual meeting tonight at 8.

Letters of S. A. Allison and W. F. Emory on the parking question were referred to the committee of the whole.

Action Launched On Bus Operation

Three charges of unlawful following of buses in Esquimalt, following the recent granting of a franchise for that purpose to the B.C. Electric, were made against the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transport Co. Company in Esquimalt Police Court yesterday.

At the request of E. H. M. Foot, defence counsel, the hearing was remanded until Thursday afternoon, after G. H. Sedger, municipal prosecutor, requested an early trial as he contended the offence was being committed daily.

Mr. Sedger said the company had been warned of the fractions twice before prosecution was launched and he was anxious to proceed as soon as possible.

Mr. Foot said the company he represented had been operating in Esquimalt since last October and daily carried some 300 men between the barracks and the dockyard. Mr. Sedger said the bus system now operating could handle this trade and Mr. Foot replied his client's company was supplying a special service and "there is a lot involved in this case."

Council Differs Over Requests

Voices rose on differences of opinion on several business matters at last night's meeting of the Esquimalt Council with Reeve Lockley and Councillor Frederick Eaton main opponents in heated arguments.

The major issue of the evening was a letter from John Dean, requesting access to the assessment roll. Mr. Dean wrote to the council two weeks ago, asking particulars of all lands owned, held or appropriated by the Dominion and provincial governments in the municipality. It was refused.

It was understood that Mr. Dean intended to have a map made of Greater Victoria with the government-owned property clearly shown, in an effort to bring about the granting of $1,500 to the municipality by the Dominion government. No taxes are collected from government-owned property.

It was understood that Mr. Dean intended to have a map made of Greater Victoria with the government-owned property clearly shown, in an effort to bring about the granting of $1,500 to the municipality by the Dominion government. No taxes are collected from government-owned property.

HELP OR CRITICISM?
A lengthy discussion resulted from that request, in which the reeve said that the information Mr. Dean requested had been already compiled and forwarded to the proper authorities.

In answer last night to Mr. Dean's second request, Reeve Lockley repeated that every possible thing had been done by the councils of the municipality on the procuring of a grant.

Councillor Eaton, who favored granting of Mr. Dean's first request, again stood by him. He thought that the matter of government-owned land in the municipality was vague to the public.

"Mr. Dean wants to do what the council has already done. He thinks that he can do more and he implies that we haven't done enough," Reeve Lockley avowed.

"As far as I know everyone in the municipality knows the conditions which face us, with the exception of one or two new residents."

"I'm not complaining about that which has been done already. I merely think that Mr. Dean be allowed to have access to the assessment roll," Councillor Eaton replied.

"We know that everything possible has been done by the council in acquiring a grant," Councillor Albert Heald said. "We must look at both sides of the question, though."

"I think that men who are honestly trying to help should be backed," Mr. Eaton said.

"Is he trying to help or is he criticizing what the council has done already?" the reeve asked.

"I move that Mr. Dean be given access to the assessment roll," Councillor Heald said. There was no seconder and Councillor Heald made a motion that the request be received and filed. Still there was no seconder.

"It would be enlightening to know," Councillor J. A. Christensen remarked.

Councillor Eaton made his motion again and Councillor Christensen seconded.

Councillor Thomas Hadfield, who was absent from the meeting two weeks ago, said that the communications the council had made with the government authorities in efforts to receive the grant, would have to be made public sooner or later.

"I don't approve of Mr. Dean handling the matter though," he said.

The motion was put before the meeting and was defeated four to two, Councillors Eaton and Christensen for and Councillors Hadfield, Heald, Neil Fraser and G. R. Guillemaud against.

ESTIMATES TROUBLE

On introducing the 1940 estimates of the Board of School Trustees, Councillor Eaton complained that copies of the estimates should be before every member of the council, also copies of last year's estimates for comparison. There was only one copy of the 1940 estimates on hand.

Councillor Heald moved that the estimates be laid on the table for further consideration and copies be made for the councillors and comparisons with last year's estimates.

PUBLICITY BUREAU GRANT

A request for a $500 grant was made by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau for operating expenses and after Councillor Christensen moved that the request be received and filed, it was decided to lay the matter on the table for the annual estimates.

Councillor Fraser said: "We refuse the bureau a grant year after year. I feel that we should give them a little."

OPPOSED PROPERTY OFFER

An offer by K. Hensworth to purchase a lot on Lyall and Comerford Streets for $75 was accepted after arguments were raised by Councillor Heald in opposition.

Gay Doings Planned For Golf Week

"Golf Week," colloquial term for the Empress tourney in these parts, has come to mean fun, games and social frivolity for non-golfing as well as golfing Victoria.

The midweek dinner dance, the golf ball on Saturday, when prizes are awarded; dance teams imported from Hollywood, and the Hawaiian floor show staged by Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, highlight the week's gaiety.

This year with a record Canadian entry of players east of the Rockies, numbers of prairie visitors already at the Empress and expectations of more golfers than ever from the Pacific northwest, there is to be a special tea on Saturday afternoon, March 2, prior to the opening of the tourney on March 4. Held in the hotel rotunda, with Dudley Wickert, popular tenor as special guest artist, many Victorians intend to entertain out-of-town guests at it.

Beaver Club Held Leap Year Dance

Hudson's Bay Employees Stage Amusing Entertainment

The ladies came into their own at the enjoyable and very successful leap year dance held at the Crystal Garden last night by the Beaver Club of the Hudson's Bay Company. The usual conventions were reversed, and many a man who thought himself relegated to the role of wallflower before the evening was over, adding to the general atmosphere of good natured fun which prevailed.

Dancing, which took place in the main ballrooms, was preceded by the following entertaining variety program, given in the lower auditorium, each number being enthusiastically applauded:

Weddings

AIKINS-CARTER

Of much interest on Vancouver Island was the wedding solemnized in Vancouver on Saturday evening between Anne Elizabeth, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter, to Mr. John Somerset Aikins, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Aikins of Nanaimo, B.C., and Victoria.

Christ Church Cathedral was the setting for the ceremony, which was performed at 8.30 by Rev. George Biddle, assisted by Very Rev. Dean Ramsay Armitage. Standards of cathedral tapers marked the guest pews, forming an illuminated aisle, down which the bridal party passed, and at the chancel rail branched candelabra lighted tall palms and ferns. While stocks were used on the altar.

IN WHITE CHIFFON

Given in marriage by her father, the bride had chosen an imported model gown of white French chiffon with a lengthy squared train. The draped bodice featured long sleeves and was girdled with a pearl-studded belt. Her French tulle veil was held in place with a small pointed plaque beaded with seed pearls, accented at the back with a wreath of orange blossom buds. In her bouquet-lily of the valley and freesia mingled with fresh orange blossoms, sent from Los Angeles.

The bride's two sisters, Mrs. Richard Dubois Phillips and Mrs. Meredith McFarlane, were her attendants. Their gowns were in sheer chiffon; the former of leaf green and the latter in delicate daffodil yellow. Each dress was designed with sunburst pleating, back and front in its full skirt, the bodices formed of surprise folds crossing back and front and terminating in long tied girdles. Their bouquets were mixed sheaves of Japanese iris, pink snapdragon and narcissus, veiled in maidenhair fern, and their hats were turbans to match their gowns. Mr. Frank Kearney of Victoria supported the groom.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents on Cedar Crescent Mrs. Carter and Mr. Aikins Sr. assisted the bride party in receiving. The former had chosen a frock of black double-faced crepe, embroidered with silver beads, small model hat of black velvet and silk French flowers. Royal purple orchids formed her corsage.

Mrs. Aikins' frock of mignonne crepe was complemented by a small matching turban ornamented with cream gardenias. The same flower formed her corsage. The bride and groom left by motor for Santa Barbara and, on their return, will reside in Nanaimo.

MORGAN-HICKMAN

At St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday evening, Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn, United in marriage Mary Isabel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hickman, 1530 Bank Street, and Bess Earle Morgan, only son of Mrs. P. Morgan of Vancouver.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a becoming frock of powder blue bunnywool, with black hat and black patent leather accessories, and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds and violets. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Hickman, wearing a frock of rust wool crepe, with brown accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and violets. Mr. Fred Holtum was groomsmen.

After the ceremony, a reception for relatives only was held at the home of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J. Donovan. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will reside in Victoria.

CORFIELD-JENNINGS

DUNCAN.—At the home of the bride's parents on Saturday evening, Lenora May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Jennings, became the bride of Angus Corfield, eldest son of Mr. H. Corfield, Koksilah, and the late Mrs. Corfield. Rev. E. M. Cook of Chemainus officiated, and Mr. Douglas Jennings, brother of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin, with metallic blue trimming, and embroidered veil, arranged in coronet fashion with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses, rosebuds and freesias. Her cousin, Kathleen Ritchie of Vancouver, was her only attendant, and wore a floor-length dress of powder blue silk net over taffeta, with bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Dennis Corfield, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held. Mrs. Jennings received the guests in a dress of wine-colored silk crepe, with corsage of freesias and carnations. The drawing-room was beautifully decorated with daffodils, stocks and Japanese plum blossom. Mrs. G. W. Robinson, Victoria, and Mrs.

Mae Murray Sues For Son's Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I have sent money for my boy many times."

Thus did ex-Prince David Mdivani defend himself against charges of Mae Murray, his former wife and one-time screen star, that he seldom had aided in the boy's support.

Called as an adverse witness by Miss Murray's counsel, Mdivani told the court the last time he sent funds to Koran, 18, their son, "was only 10 days ago."

"I did not refuse to give my former wife money for our son, but I refused it when she wanted it for herself," he added.

Miss Murray, who testified she once was worth millions, but now is dependent on friends for aid, is seeking $1,000 monthly from Mdivani, so she can make a home for the boy, at present on an Albany, N.Y., farm. A New York court recently declined her plea for custody of Koran, ruling she could not provide a satisfactory home.

Mdivani was in court as she closed her testimony. Only once did he react to her testimony. He reddened, and seemed almost ready to leap to his feet when she declared:

"As long as we were married, I supported him. He was my husband and I loved him and he was welcome to everything I had."

Choral Union Will Sing Bach's Passion

Bach's St. John Passion will be sung by the Victoria Choral and Orchestra Union in Christ Church Cathedral on March 12. This work had its first performance in Victoria two years ago, and the second is being given in response to many requests from those who heard it in 1937. Philip Watts, who so sensitively took the part of Jesus on the last occasion, has been engaged to sing the same part. Mr. Oakman of Victoria will sing the narrative which Bach allotted to the evangelist. The cathedral choir boys will again sing the soprano solos which are interpolated in the text to provide intervals of contemplation as the drama is unfolded, leading up to the crucifixion. Stanley Bailey will conduct the union. Admission will be by ticket, obtainable from members of the society, Fletcher Bros., David Spencer Ltd. and Terry's Drug Store.

The concert to be given on March 5 by the Schubert Choir will be supplemented by selections sung by a quartette from the Masonic Choir, vocal solos by Schubert Choir members and duets by Mrs. Nimmo and A. W. Trevett.

LEGION'S THANKS

Citizens of Victoria responded loyally to the appeal for $10,000 issued by the local branches of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., in conjunction with the nation-wide drive of the Canadian Legion for $500,000 to provide services for the troops. In fact the response was so liberal that today officials in charge of the two-week effort were able to report that they had gone well over the objective.

At the headquarters office, 642 Johnson Street, it was announced today total collections had risen to $11,150 and that the total was steadily rising. The office will remain open for the rest of the week to receive promised donations.

Last Saturday, the closing day of the drive, was a busy one at headquarters. Several citizens dropped in voluntarily to make cash donations.

At the campaign's close messages of thanks to the public and campaign workers were issued by Lieut.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake, grand president of the Canadian Legion and honorary president of Canadian Legion War Services Inc., and Alderman Stanley Okell, chairman of the local campaign committee.

PARIS — The Athens correspondent of the Matin has forwarded the following: "After the complete destruction of forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles, the Allied fleet penetrated the straits and shelled the interior forts to a point 14 miles from the entrance."

LONDON — Germany remains silent regarding her share in the military operations both in the east and in the west, while Austria-Hungary declares that the Austrian and German forces are holding their own in the Carpathians and in Eastern Galicia.

Dr. W. H. B. Medd of Salt Spring Island is leaving for England today, having accepted a commission offered him in the Imperial Army Veterinary Corps.

Otto to Visit U.S.

PARIS (AP) — Archduke Otto, Hapsburg claimant to the non-existent throne of Austria, obtained a visa from the American embassy here and is expected to fly from Lisbon, Portugal, to the United States this week.

Some Paris observers said he hopes to enlist the support of American Catholics in his campaign for the Austrian throne.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy and Consulting Drug Store, or any druggist, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. It is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of folly to anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Anglicans to Appeal For Funds for West

On Sunday, March 3, in every Anglican church across Canada a special appeal will be made for missionary work in the pioneer settlements of western Canada. An objective of $50,000 has been set. Present reports from key laymen who have been appointed in each diocese indicate that the amount required will be raised.

The House of Bishops of the Ecclesiastical province of British Columbia, in recent session, gave their unanimous endorsement to the special appeal. Contributions are already arriving at the headquarters of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada. One contribution came from the United States as the result of an article in the Canadian Churchman.

Bishop H. D. Martin of Saskatchewan is at present making several addresses in eastern Canada, citing the needs of the pioneer settlements of the west, where years of drought and bad crops have left the people in many areas in a desperate plight.

Rev. Leonard A. Dixon, general secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, has just returned to Toronto from western Canada dioceses. He reports that the spirit throughout the church is excellent, and he found many evidences in the better-off dioceses of an eager desire to assist their less fortunate brethren.

Fyfe, in recitations; Peter Davidson, who rendered violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Vivian and Messrs. Fyfe, Hall and Petrie, who sang comic numbers.

'Best' Canadian Actor in Politics

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Haskins, the Canadian amateur actor whom S. R. Littlewood, British critic, has referred to as better than Maurice Colbourne, has thrown his hat into the Alberta political ring.

Haskins, a farmer of the Clive district 90 miles south of here, has been nominated by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation to contest Wetaskiwin riding. At last year's Canadian Drama Festival, Haskins was adjudged the best male actor by Littlewood.

FEELS LIKE NEW PERSON! VANCOUVER LADY IS NOW PRAISING MOSBY'S TONIC

Suffered So Much With Rheumatic Pains She Could Hardly Stand It and Had Stomach Distress After Every Meal She Ate, But Now Mosby's Tonic Has Given Her Splendid Relief and She Feels Like Some Other Person.

Widely-known people, living throughout this entire vicinity, are now coming forward daily with Sincere Statements, publicly praising and endorsing this "New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents," known as MOSBY'S TONIC, which is now being introduced to the public daily here at Cunningham Drug Store (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Sts., by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as THE MOSBY TONIC MAN.

For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. A. Shawyer, of 1362 East 16th St., Vancouver, B.C., made the following statement about MOSBY'S TONIC. We are indeed PROUD to publish her statement which appears as follows:

Was a Suffering Person For Many Years

"For a period of years I had been a suffering person," said Mrs. Shawyer. "I had rheumatic pains all through my limbs and back. I believe all of this suffering was due to impurities in my system, and besides the rheumatic trouble, I had a very upset stomach. I had indigestion pains and distress after EVERY MEAL. I had to be very careful what I ate, in fact, I couldn't eat meat at all. If I did I would have so much suffering afterward that I couldn't hardly stand it. That stomach, no wonder it kept up long after I went to bed at nights so that I never could sleep right."

Now Mrs. Shawyer Feels Like a New Person

"I tried medicine after medicine and spent all kinds of money, but I will frankly say that nothing helped me; in fact, I might as well have taken my money and thrown it into the street for all the good I got from it."

Boston Tackle Vill Hawks

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

A DES MOINES heavyweight, name of Johnny Paycheck, is listed as the next antagonist on Joe Louis' fight program late in March, causing fight followers to scurry through record books to see who Johnny Paycheck might be, who he has beaten, and why doesn't Louis quit taking on second and third raters.

Some already have pointed out that the western beller is a somewhat baldish individual and it doesn't quite figure for a bald-headed man to be a great heavyweight. To forestall argument, Bob Fitzsimmons was, of course, the exception. Truth of the matter is that Paycheck is no slap-happy and must be ranked a little higher than a third rater. There very likely are at least three or four heavyweights about who could take him over the jumps—most notably Bob Pastor and Tony Galento—but in view of the fact that Arturo Godoy did so well there is reason to believe that Paycheck at least has license to be in the same ring as Louis.

It should be further stated that Louis and his next foe already have met in the ring, but that was a few years ago when Louis was just starting on his way up and Paycheck was still an amateur. The man then was Packer and he changed to the spelling he now uses. Then he was picked up by Harold Steinman, his present manager, who took him to Des Moines and started exhibiting him around the Midwest.

His tricked-up name made good ballroom and it wasn't long before Paycheck was doing alright by himself. He won 33 fights and averaged close to $2,000 a fight. "And just three years ago," Paycheck reminisces, "I was right in New York trying to get some work. Coffee and a couple of doughnuts were quite a feast. Things looked so bad I decided to return to Chicago. Money was a problem so I hooked my overcoat."

Paycheck has met none of the topnotchers to date, but more than 30 out of his 50 professional victories have been by the knock-out route. Steinman has retained Benny Leonard, the former lightweight champion, to train Paycheck for his big chance, and Leonard declares his pupil has a good chance to win.

Be that as it may, Promoter Mike Jacobs once again proves he does not have to take a back seat to the Hollywood master minds who realize the value of building a new star for public consumption. Johnny Paycheck has been manoeuvred very nicely in that direction. Few had heard about Paycheck until his appointment with Louis was announced. If Jacobs can fill Madison Square Garden for this fight, he will again have demonstrated he is a worthy successor to the late Tex Rickard, the greatest gambler of them all when it came to promoting prize fights.

Football Cup Final Saturday

The big final struggle for the McGavin Cup between the giants in senior soccer, Victoria City and Victoria West, will take place at Athletic Park Saturday, Axel Kinnear, secretary of the local football commission, announced last night.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, donor of the cup, has been asked to attend and present the trophy.

This will be the third piece of silverware the Wests will be gunning for this season. They have already taken possession of the Freddy Price Cup and have clinched the Garrison Cup, league championship trophy. From all appearances, it seems as though the Wests are determined to make a clean sweep of all the silverware up for competition.

Wests, given a bye in the first round, gained the final bracket of the McGavin series by beating Lewis' Victoria City men in the first round, and then ousted Saanich Thistles and then ousted Esquimalt in the semifinal.

Kickoff is billed for 3, with Bill Cull as referee.

Proceeds from the match will go to the injured players' fund of the Victoria and District Football League.

RUGBY DANCE FOR INJURED PLAYERS

The annual dance of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held Friday night in the Crystal Garden from 9 to 1. One of the most popular annual dances staged, this affair is in aid of the injured players' fund of the Victoria and District Football League.

French King Said: "I Am the State!"

When a five-year-old boy is made king of a country, he has little, if any, power. Older persons rule in his name.

That was true in the case of Louis XIV. His father died when he was only five. The child became king of France, but the real power was in the hands of his mother, the queen, and of a high officer of the Catholic Church, Cardinal Mazarin.

Louis XIV

All through his boyhood, Louis found that things were being done for him, not by him. Perhaps this was the reason he later took into his own hands every bit of power he could obtain.

In 1661, the cardinal died. He had been prime minister, and it was expected that someone would be chosen to take the same office.

At this time Louis was 23 years of age. Instead of choosing a new prime minister, he declared, "From this time forward, I shall be my own prime minister."

Louis XIV said, "I am the state." By this he meant, "I am France, and no one shall tell me a single thing about how the nation must be ruled."

In other words, Louis became a dictator of a sort. Probably no other king had ever held so much power over France.

In the life of every dictator, it seems there comes a time when his own country is not large enough to please him. Louis XIV was not content with the size of France, and made war on the Spanish Netherlands. This war gave him land known as "French Flanders."

Another conquest of Louis was the region known as Alsace. It had been a part of Charlemagne's empire, but later had been lost to France. Louis took it back, and France held it until 1871.

Seventy-two years! That was the length of the reign of Louis XIV, counting from the time he was five years old. His real power covered a period three-fourths as long as that.

A well-known novel, "The Man in the Iron Mask," tells a story about this king. It is related that his brother was put in prison, wearing an iron mask. Later the brother was freed and the young man who had been on the throne was put in the iron mask.

A man in a mask did die in the Bastille prison while Louis was on the throne. It appears to be proved, however, that the unhappy prisoner was an Italian named Antonio Mattioli. Mattioli is said to have "double-crossed" the French in a deal which was to have given a fortress to them after which he was kidnapped and put in prison. It is explained that he wore a mask so no one would find out he had been taken across the frontier.

Benefic aspects are active to-day and women are especially fortunate under this configuration. The morning hours are auspicious for constructive thinking and planning. Girls may expect good luck in seeking employment. Commerce is under a promising sway.

Romance should flourish under this planetary government, which promises susceptibility on the part of men possessed of wealth. The stars encourage mental vision, and the afternoon is read as auspicious for love affairs. The evening is rarely fortunate for letter writing.

Great engineering projects will be pushed in the spring which should be most profitable for many industries. Engineers will be in great demand, so will trained factory hands. Trade and commerce should be active, but some sort of a disaster will cause heavy cargo loss on the Pacific Ocean, it is indicated.

The element of surprise which has been conspicuous in many public activities will cause sensation in the next month or so, as novel campaign methods are introduced to build up candidates for political office. Dark horses will be blackened out before the campaign ends, it is forecast, but sudden introductions of favorite sons will cause excitement.

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I married when we were 16. He is now 23. He has not had any work for nine months and we are living with my mother. My husband won't even try to find anything to do. He lies in bed every morning until 10 and when he does get up he sits in one chair all day long. I loved him very much when we married, but I am getting to have a contempt for him. What shall I do?

Answer: As long as your mother supports him he will never work. Your only chance to save him is to turn him out of the house and make him shift for himself. When it comes to starving, even a lazy man will get busy.

Two Get Year For Car Theft

Fred Ellsworth and Frank Medler, convicted on a joint charge of stealing a car, were each sentenced to one year's imprisonment by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

George Harrison, charged with the other two, was dismissed with the comment by the magistrate that "I am far from certain that you were not the third person with Ellsworth and Medler."

The car stolen was owned by George Allen and was taken from North Park Street. It was later found in a ditch on Burnside Road, where Ellsworth, Medler and a third man were found trying to get it out.

Identification of Medler and Ellsworth was made by Constable W. A. Pearson of the Saanich Police, a bus driver and Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver criminologist, who examined mud found on their shoes and on the car. The magistrate held identification of Harrison was not complete and he must therefore give him the benefit of the doubt.

Credit Granters Praise Chamber

Members of the Credit Granters' Association endorsed the Junior Chamber of Commerce arena campaign today at their weekly luncheon meeting in Spencer's after hearing a fine talk on the arena plans given by Conway Parrott, past-president of the chamber.

"Victoria should be proud to have such a live-wire organization as the Junior Chamber, and I think they should be congratulated on their initiative in undertaking the campaign," Ronald M. Lochhead, president, said, "and you can assure your organization, Mr. Parrott, they have our best wishes and support."

Mr. Parrott said the question had always been asked: "Why an arena? There were many reasons why an arena was needed here and everybody knew that there should be one," he said. "The question should be: Why not an arena?"

He said the arena would generally be a great asset to the city and take care of a need the younger generation has lacked for many years.

"I say the Junior Chamber is helping to get an arena. It cannot do it alone. Every man, woman and child in Greater Victoria will have to get behind our movement and give it every ounce of their support in order to make it a success," the speaker said. Mr. Parrott said the chamber had decided to stage a public subscription campaign rather than any other form of drive. The proposed site on Pandora Avenue was large enough to make a civic centre out of it. The building would cost in the neighborhood of $125,000. Money, after it was collected, would be handed over to three trustees. The arena would be leased by the commission which would control it. It would be suitable for many functions other than ice hockey. The money campaign will start on March 12, and many other interesting details.

'Y' War Work Campaign Ready

An objective of $1,038,000 was set for the Y.M.C.A. national war services campaign to start April 15. Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Victoria association said on his return to town this morning from Ottawa where he attended a joint meeting of the National Council of the "Y" and the War Services Council.

Mr. Paulding had been away from the city since last Wednesday. He traveled by air. A budget will be issued showing for what the $1,038,000 will be used, Mr. Paulding said. The highlight of the meeting was an address by Jack Beaton, head of the Y.M.C.A. war work, who recently returned from England and France, where he studied the needs of the men in the forces.

Mr. Beaton pointed out the splendid work the Canadian "Y" was doing already in the field and in London. Nine offices had been established and four huts were in operation at the Canadian base camp.

"The experience the 'Y' had in the last war has placed them in a privileged position in catering to and entertaining the men," the war service head said. The association had full control.

All athletics and sports of the Canadian troops were controlled by the association.

The association was operating the famous Beaver Club in London, which was being backed by the Red Cross and a committee of prominent citizens of the city.

The work that the association was doing in France could not be released, but Mr. Beaton assured the meeting that the "Y" would be ready to serve as soon as the Canadians were sent across. Again the experiences gained during the Great War were making things work out smoothly in the preparations for the "Y" catering to the needs of the men in the lines, in rest billets and base depots.

"There is and will be a great need for entertainment and relaxation for the troops," Mr. Beaton said. The "people of Canada will be able to help by giving wholehearted support to the national campaign which will start April 15."

H. M. Long, chairman of the war services campaign, who is a prominent business man of Montreal and who was in Victoria a week ago last Saturday, addressed the meeting giving the preparations that had been made for the campaign.

John D. Frost, Montreal, executive and finance chairman, reported on the excellent work that was being done in the Dominion for the men in uniform. Y.M.C.A. buildings throughout the nation had been thrown open for the use of military, naval and air force men.

Huts were being opened in camps and other places throughout the Dominion also, and remarkable support was being given the work by business men of Canada.

Sir Richard Lake addressed the meeting, showing how the growth of Red Cross organizations during the last war meant that more money was forwarded from Canada to Britain in the year 1918 than all three preceding years of the Great War.

A committee representative of the four sections of the Royal Oak district, Royal Oak, Prospect Lake, Elk Lake and Cordova Bay, was nominated by the meeting, and is composed of Reeve Lambriek, Major Barton, Rev. S. J. Wickens, Messrs. Spicer and Huck, Miss Oldfield, and Mrs. H. Hutchison, Barton and Martin. A meeting of this committee was called for Tuesday, March 5, at 8 at the home of Major William Barton.

Reeve Lambriek said "Royal Oak has always been in the forefront in matters of this kind. We've done it before, let's do it again."

Turnley told the court he intended to replace the signs with permanent posters relating only to his used-car business.

"If you do that I will be disposed to suspend sentence," the magistrate said.

Must Carry 1940 Licenses Friday

New licenses for automobiles must be displayed on Friday morning and failure to comply with this rule will mean prosecution.

This was the ultimatum issued by B.C. Police motor officials this morning to persons who had any idea of leaving their license purchase until Saturday.

There will be no days of grace this year as was the practice a few years ago and the license rule— affecting both license plates and drivers' licenses—will be strictly enforced on Friday.

To accommodate those who cannot get their licenses until Saturday issuing offices will remain open till 5 that afternoon, but it will mean a day's lay-up for the cars of the owners concerned.

Business at the issuing offices has been brisk for the last 10 days. There has not been a rush which could not be handled by the extra staff but officials reported a steady stream of applicants flowing into the offices.

Admiral Kelly At Navy Yard

Admiral Sir Howard Kelly, who will give a public lecture at the Empress Hotel ballroom this evening at 8.15 on "The Navy in Peace and War," today saw the Canadian naval barracks and drydock at Esquimalt.

He was guest at luncheon of Commodore Victor G. Brodeur, R.C.N., commanding officer of the Pacific coast division of the Canadian navy at "Admiral's House," in the dockyard. There he met senior officers of the Esquimalt base and chatted with a number of visiting Royal Navy officers.

Yesterday Admiral Kelly went to the Fairbridge Farm School in the Cowichan Valley, and thrilled the children with an account of the battle put up by H.M.S. Rawalpindi against the German pocket battleship Deutschland in the North Sea some months ago.

"She went down with her colors flying and lit up by her own flames," Sir Howard said.

Accompanying Admiral Kelly to Fairbridge were members of the hospitality committee of the National Council of Education, under whose auspices he is speaking here. In the party were Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. H. R. Beaven, Mrs. P. B. Scurrah and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ricardo of Vernon. They lunched at the school and on their way home had tea at the Cowichan Bay Inn as guests of Mrs. Beaven.

Tomorrow evening Admiral Kelly will inspect the Rainbow Sea Cadets at their drill hall at the Outer Wharf.

Plans were being made today by Albert Sullivan, chairman of the Victoria branch of the National Council, for the appearance of Admiral Kelly at several Victoria educational institutions.

STRIKERS ENTER PIONEER MINE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A. E. Bull, secretary-treasurer of Pioneer Gold Mines Limited, said today a group of striking men had entered the company's mine in the Bridge River district, "apparently" intending to stage a sit-down strike.

Bull said the men broke open the locked entrance of the mine this morning and descended. He said provincial police had been asked to intervene, but he had not heard yet whether the men had left the mine.

A strike has been in progress at the mine, one of British Columbia's largest gold producers, since last October, when it was called to demand union recognition and higher wages by the Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a Congress of Industrial Organizations affiliate.

SEEK CO-OPERATION OF TIMES READERS

Bruce Hutchinson's "Loose Ends" column appearing in the February 20 issue of the Times, dealing with his return home after a visit to Ottawa and other eastern cities, should be utilized to the fullest advantage to bring home to the rest of the world the remarkable winter climate of Victoria, in the opinion of Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau directors.

At their budget meeting yesterday at noon, the directors discussed the most economical way in which this piece of literature could be circulated over the continent and overseas and it was finally decided to ask the co-operation of the public in the matter.

The directors issued an appeal to all readers of the Times to look up their February 20 issue at home, cut out the column and mail it to their friends in eastern Canada, the United States and the Old Country.

The idea of using the column as an advertising medium of the city's mild climate came from a letter sent to the directors by Howard Chapman, who suggested the bureau spend $500 in reprinting the article.

The directors found that there were not funds available for this purpose.

It was therefore decided to appeal to the citizens who have the interests of the city at heart to co-operate.

A letter of thanks was ordered sent to Mr. Chapman for his suggestion.

Tunney Knows

His Shakespeare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—
Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world, made more money today (if there's a payoff) from his knowledge of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" than the bard of Avon received for writing it.
Tunney did it by matching memories with Professor Jacob Baechus Taylor, who is head of the department of accounting at Ohio State University as well as director of Ohio's state liquor department.

The two old friends (they were schoolmates at Woodbury, N.M.)
were at lunch yesterday when Tunney—who was accused of training for his championship scraps with Jack Dempsey by reading Shakespeare—tossed in a quotation from Act Five, Scene Eight of "Macbeth" to build up a tight yarn.
The former champ, who proved how smart he was years ago by retiring undefeated, quoted:
"Lay on, Macduff;
And damned be him that first
cries, 'Hold, enough!'"

Professor Taylor, a pretty fair admirer of Shakespeare in his own right, chimed in with:
"You're wrong there, Gene!
That quotation should be:
"Lay on, Macduff;
And cursed be he that first
cries, 'Hold, enough!'"
Tunney raised his bushy
brows and said:
"I'll wager $5 I'm right."
The professor came back with:
"And I'll bet you $5,000 you are wrong!"
Tunney punched a finger lightly against the professor's and answered:
"You, Jacob, have made yourself a wager."
An early edition of Shakespeare was brought in and Tunney thumbed to Act Five, Scene Eight of "Macbeth." He was right.
Professor Taylor gulped and said:
"You win, Gene. I haven't that amount on me right now, but I'll see you tomorrow."
"Forget it," Gene answered.

Esquimalt Council

SEWER REVENUE UP

OVER LAST YEAR

Sewer revenue in Esquimalt for 1940 will be $178.68 more than the 1939 revenue, the council learned last night on receiving the completion of this year's sewer-assessment-roll from the foreman of works.
The roll showed that the total assessable frontage was 153,711 feet at nine cents per foot, which amounted to $13,833.99. From this amount was deducted the lot of revenue from frontage of reverted lots which was $6,215.67, leaving $7,618.32. Added to this sum was $1,782.50 for sewer rentals, which made a net revenue of $9,346.82 compared with last year's net revenue of $9,168.14.

Four communications were dealt with in committee. One was from Commodore V. G.
Brodeur, R.C.N., regarding the Veterans' Transportation Company and the second from the Veterans' Transportation Company regarding application for a license and an inspector's report.
The other two matters were a by-law to provide for additional buses and additional routes in the municipality and the annual loan by-law.

The B.C. Electric Railway Company Limited was granted a license for an additional bus to be used in the municipality, which will be allowed to carry passengers to the city.

A letter was received and filed from the B.C. Electric Railway Company Limited, giving notice that the lighting rate of three cents per kilowatt hour will be reduced to two and a half cents starting March 1, after passing the Public Utilities Commission.
In receiving the notification the council expressed appreciation to the company for the reduction.

ANNUAL BASEBALL

MEETING SUNDAY

The annual meeting of the Victoria Baseball Association will be held Sunday morning at 10.30 in the Colonist boardroom, with W.
J. Cull, president, in the chair.
The meeting is open to all last year's teams and others interested in the game. Reports on 1939 activities will be submitted and officers elected.
Important matters will be discussed, including the future of the baseball school, which proved so popular last year; organization of a Puget Sound League; the amalgamation of all baseball from midgets to seniors, and setting up of an umpires' school.

TORONTO (CP)—Rt. Hon.
Arthur Meighen told newspapermen he had "nothing to say" about his plans for the current election campaign, and at the same time denied a Windsor report in which he was quoted as saying he would not take part in the campaign.
Reporters told Mr. Meighen he had been quoted in a story carried by the Canadian Press as saying he would not participate in the campaign.
"I made no announcement over the week-end concerning participation in the present election campaign," replied Mr. Meighen, Conservative leader in the Senate, who returned from a trip to London and Windsor.

"I was betting on a sure thing."
And to prove that he was pretty certain of his Shakespeare, the former champion delivered the remainder of the scene—with gestures.

AMUSING STORY OF

STODGY HUSBANDS

"School for Husbands," now showing at the Dominion Theatre, is probably Britain's best comedy effort to date. It tells the amusing story of stodgy husbands whose flirtatious wives become attracted by a handsome philanderer. The picture packs plenty of laughter and moves swiftly through the merry marital mix-up to a surprising and clever climax.

Rex Harrison heads the exceptional cast. He will be remembered for his outstanding portrayal of the doctor in "The Citadel." Other players include
Diana Churchill, daughter of Winston Churchill, Romney
Brent, June Clyde and Henry Kendall.

The second feature on the Dominion bill is Edgar Wallace's famous mystery thriller, "The Crimson Circle," featuring Noah
Beery and June Duprez.

Priscilla Lane

In 'Four Wives'

"Four Wives," sequel to last year's popular hit, "Four Daughters," will open tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

It has the same delightful cast consisting of the Lane Sisters,
Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola;
Gale Page, Claude Rains, Jeffrey
Lynn, May Robson, Frank Mc-Hugh and Dick Foran.

John Garfield, who won stardom by his great performance in "Four Daughters," is seen in "Four Wives," but only as a vision.

The unforgettable "gate-swinging" lovers who called each other "Lemp" and "Dietz" are again played by Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn. Lola Lane is the ambitious Thelma who accepts the proposal of the agreeable, bragartiplayed by Frank McHugh. Rosemary Lane is the indolent leisure-loving Kay, Miss Robson still rules the household as Aunt Emma and Rains is the lovable father.

Gable as Rhett

In Capitol Epic

A real Rhett, from Charleston,
S.C., home of the fictional Rhett
Butler, of "Gone With the Wind" fame, is playing in her first motion picture.

She is Alicia Rhett, descendant of a family long famous in southern history, and her first screen role is in the Technicolor production of "Gone With the Wind," which will open at the Capitol
Theatre with a matinee performance at 2 on March 8.

It was Miss Rhett's family, so the story goes, that contributed one half of the fictional Rhett Butler's name. David O. Selznick saw Alicia acting in the Dock Street Little Theatre in Charleston and signed her for the role of India Wilkes in the film.

Clark Gable is playing Rhett
Butler in "Gone With the Wind," and one of Miss Rhett's first days was spent working in scenes with him. As India Wilkes, she plays the sister of Ashley Wilkes, portrayed by Leslie Howard.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"The Wizard of Oz," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, is an all-family picture. It will delight adults.
The picture has all of the charm of Baum's delightful book, which millions have read. But the story has an adult appeal in plot, cleverness in lines and situations, lilting songs which will delight all from 3 to 103, lyrics which will amuse the youngsters and bring chuckles to the grown-ups.

In addition, it has some of the most amazing color scenes the screen has ever had. If you can
tricks are done you're a magician.

START HARBOR WHARF REPAIRS

Repairs to the Dominion government wharf at the foot of Broughton Street have been started by the Victoria Pile Driving Company Ltd., which firm was recently awarded the contract by the Ottawa government.

The wharf, is used for the berthing of government patrol vessels.

The contract runs to $4,000, according to A. J. Whitfield, manager of the contracting company.

Considerable piling and repair work is being carried out in the local harbor by the Victoria Pile Driving Company, its pile drivers being at work on the construction of the new shipways for the Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd.

Lights Discontinued

Mariners are advised that the Northside Range lights, Fraser River, will be discontinued temporarily.

A fixed green light will be placed on the front pole of the New Cut Range and two fixed green lights will be placed on the front pole of the Northside Range.

These changes will be effected on or about March 1, 1940, without further notice, states Col. A. W. R. Wilby, agent, Department of Transport.

C.N.R. Bargain Trip

Canadian National Railways operate a bargain trip from Victoria, Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster to Okanagan Valley points as far south as Penticton and main line points between Port Mann and Kamloops, including Tranquille, scheduled to leave Vancouver at 7.15 p.m. March 8, according to C. F. Earle, district passenger agent. Return limit calls for excursionists to leave destinations Monday evening, March 11, arriving back in Vancouver Tuesday morning.

Missouri Agents Here

Checking up on the travel situation in the northwest, two representatives of Missouri Pacific Lines arrived in the city yesterday from Seattle and proceeded up-land after talking things over with local transportation officials.

They were C. M. Fowler, general agent, and Paul W. Parkhurst, traffic representative, both of Seattle.

Tailshaft Shipped

A new tailshaft for the Alaska Transportation Company's steamship Tongass, which was damaged by contact with a floating log off Cone Island, Millbank Sound, was shipped north from Vancouver Monday night to Prince Rupert, where it will be installed to permit the vessel to continue her voyage to southeastern Alaska. The tailshaft was shipped by truck from Seattle to Vancouver, where it was transferred to the C.N.R. Steamship Prince George. The Prince George is due to reach Prince Rupert tomorrow.

The dozen passengers aboard the Tongass were transferred to the steamship North Coast, of the Northland Transportation Company, at Prince Rupert.

No Armed Force

WASHINGTON (CP)—The British embassy said in a statement today no armed force was used when inspection of United States mails carried on trans-Atlantic clipper planes was begun by Bermuda authorities last January 18.

The statement said in part: "The British ambassador has been authorized by the governor of Bermuda to state that in the exercise by the British authorities of their rights under international law on the occasion in question, no armed force was used and that the allegation that

Latin Neutrals To Limit Ships

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Sharp limits for the movement of auxiliary vessels of belligerent nations in Pan-American territorial waters were recommended today by the Inter-American Neutrality committee of experts.

The committee completed its meetings February 3 and decided to make uniform suggestions to all the 21 American republics.

Recommendations made public by the secretariat were:

1. A neutral state should do its utmost to prevent any merchant ship from using its ports, anchorages and waters as a base to aid belligerents.

2. Merchant ships in the waters of a neutral country should be prohibited from having any contact with belligerent warships to aid those ships, except to give humanitarian assistance. Giving of aid other than humanitarian would be considered a merchant ship to be considered an auxiliary vessel.

3. Auxiliary vessels should be subject to internment rules throughout the war and neutral states should initiate the internment measures.

4. The captain and officers of an auxiliary vessel should be responsible under local authority for infractions of rules. Civil responsibility and payment of fines can be demanded of the proprietor of the vessel; ship and cargo can be affected by such regulations.

5. Merchant ships should be prohibited from taking aboard in neutral ports war materials, persons, provisions and fuel with the intention of transporting them on the high sea to belligerent warships.

The Associated Press in a news story last week quoted an eyewitness as saying Capt. Charles A. Lorber, in charge of the first Pan-American Airway clipper to be boarded for mail inspection at Bermuda, yielded the mail only when a party of marines armed with rifles with bayonets fixed was summoned by the inspecting officers.

The contract runs to $4,000, according to A. J. Whitfield, manager of the contracting company.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trading was dull on Winnipeg grain exchange today as wheat futures followed the only available market factor—irregularity at Chicago.

Quotations began the session with minor losses but firmed as moderate seaboard buying met light offerings in the pit. At the close values were 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

May at 88 1/2, July 89 1/2 and October 90 1/2.

Export sales of Canadian wheat were estimated at close to 300,000 bushels for export to United Kingdom and neutral European countries.

Sale of 600,000 bushels of eastern stock durum wheat was reported in cash grains business.
